

THREE OCEAN RECORDS BROKEN

LUSITANIA AVERAGES TWENTY-FIVE KNOTS

Clips 3 1-2 Hours Off Sister
Ship's Performance—
Wonderful Feat.

New York, May 22.—Trans-Atlantic records for a voyage, average speed, and for the shortest trip over the long course, were broken by the Cunard liner Lusitania which arrived here today. The big ship anchored off the Sandy Hook lightship in a heavy fog at 2.55 this morning, just four days, 20 hours and 22 minutes after she passed Daunt's Rocks.

This beats the best previous time for the long course made by her sister ship, the Mauretania by three hours and 37 minutes, and is only one hour and 42 minutes longer than the Lusitania's record of four days 18 hours and 40 minutes over the short course.

The Lusitania's average speed for the voyage was 24.83 knots, and this time goes far toward securing for her owners the British mail subsidy of $750,000 promised when the Lusitania shall have averaged 24.50 knots per hour, or better, for a round trip passage.

Queen of the Seas.

New York, May 22.—Somewhere out near the Sandy Hook lightship, in the dense fog bank which has been hanging over the coast since yesterday, the big liner Lusitania is swinging at anchor to-day, probably once more the unrivaled queen of the seas. When the giant turbine shot past Fire Island at 10.05 this morning at a speed of nearly 30 miles an hour (more than 25 knots) and was lost in the mist, she was carrying a record of hours faster than ever made before by a ship on the long trans-Atlantic highway. Since the last moment she has been absolutely lost to view, as if in mid ocean, but the wireless has told that she continued her flight over at least most of the 2,700 miles which separated her from her goal. Just where she was when the wireless was sent, even those on board the steamer did not know, but on shore it is taken for granted that Captain Watts made certain that he had passed the record line off the lightship before letting down his anchors. Wherever she is, there she must remain, until the fog lifts sufficiently to permit her to work her way cautiously up through the narrow channels to the harbor and dock.

TICKETLESS DOUKHOBORS.
Attempt to Put Family Off Train at North Bay Nearly Leads to Riot.

(Special to The Times.)
North Bay, May 22.—A train load of Russian Doukhobors has reached here. One family of seven was found to have only one ticket, and when an attempt was made to put them off the train a riot was threatened. Eventually the car was side tracked pending instructions from headquarters.

KESTREL'S CAPTURE.
Case of Francis Cutting to Be Investigated in Admiralty Court.

(Special to The Times.)
Ottawa, May 22.—The marine department has ordered the usual formal investigation in the Admiralty court in the case of the American poacher Francis Cutting, captured by D. G. S. Kestrel.

MORE OUTRAGES IN CLEVELAND CAR STRIKE

Dynamite Injures Several Passengers—Section of Track Blown to Atoms.

Cleveland, Ohio, May 22.—The near approach of peace in the local street car war did not prevent dynamiters from following their usual operations last night, no less than half a dozen cars being damaged, while several persons received injuries.

The most serious outrage was the blowing up of a car carrying ten passengers at the corner of Euclid avenue and East 116th street. The car was wrecked and two of the ten passengers were badly hurt. A section of the track five feet long was blown to atoms. Five other cars were dynamited in various sections of the city during the night, but no one was seriously injured. Since daylight this morning no disorder of any kind has been reported.

The mediators who are trying to bring about a settlement of the strike again resumed their labors to-day. It is said they are despatched in a coach of a third class train. Two arbitrators have already been named.

DRUGGISTS IN DRAGNET.

(Special to The Times.)
Toronto, May 22.—The Lord's Day Alliance threatens to prosecute druggists who sell tobacco, toilet requisites, etc., on Sunday.

C. N. R. CROP REPORT.

Winnipeg, May 22.—The Canadian Northern railway crop report is most optimistic. It says in brief: "The crops are coming on splendidly. Prospects good. Weather very favorable. Late rains were beneficial."

CROP PROSPECTS.

Rain in Saskatchewan Is Welcomed as Moisture Is Needed.

(Special to The Times.)
Regina, May 22.—Wet snow fell yesterday in Saskatchewan the greater part of the day, changing at times to rain. With the snow everywhere well above the ground, the moisture was welcomed as calculated to further improve the crop prospects, which at present are of the brightest.

WILL TAX RAILWAYS.
Saskatchewan Government Decides on Plan to Largely Enrich Treasury.

(Special to The Times.)
Regina, May 22.—The Saskatchewan government has decided to tax the gross earnings of railways, three per cent. on those in the province, seven or more years, and one and a half per cent. on those more than five and less than seven years.

TWENTY PEASANTS HANGED IN RUSSIA

Kherson, Russia, May 22.—Twenty peasants who took part in recent agrarian disorders in the Yekaterinovsk district, were hanged here to-day, after being condemned to death by a court martial. They belonged to a peasant association, the avowed object of which was to drive out landed proprietors by the burning of their estates.

B. C. ELECTRIC DIVIDEND.

(Special to The Times.)
London, May 22.—The British Columbia Electric Railway dividend for the half year is at the rate of six per cent. per annum.

CARDINAL LOGUE ON "RED PERIL"

STRENGTH OF CATHOLIC CHURCH IN AMERICA

Says Socialism Teaches Illogical Principles—His Tribute to Roosevelt.

New York, May 22.—Cardinal Logue, the primate of Ireland, who came to America to take part in the Catholic centenary in this city, granted an interview yesterday in which he discussed socialism and anarchism, the future of the Catholic church in America and expressed his opinion of President Roosevelt. He said:

"He was all that I had imagined him to be, strong, fearless and of wonderfully magnetic personality. He is unquestionably a great man, and his convictions, courageous in his efforts to carry through measures which obtain for the good of the country, and has that other characteristic of a statesman who sees and works, not only for the present, but what is even more important, the future."

"Discussing the evils which threaten this country, the cardinal said: "Socialism teaches illogical principles which, if put into practice, would not last six months. Communism, which is another word, I take it, for socialism, cannot be applied to the government. So far, however, as it gives the laboring classes better homes, and therefore greater happiness, I approve of it. But to carry out the idea they advance and include the common ownership and management of all public utilities, I think unwise as well as impracticable. If that principle were fulfilled every socialist would expect to become an official in the management of affairs, a condition of things which would pave the way for graft and corruption. Anarchism should have no place in any community. It is hostile to all forms of government and a menace to law and order. Society cannot enjoy peace and security if anarchism is allowed to prevail."

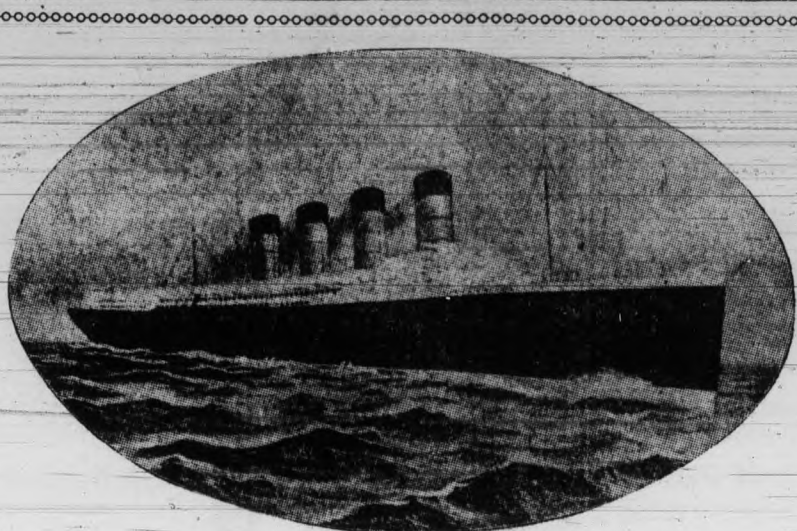

Concerning the church, the cardinal was quoted as saying: "The wonderful strength and power of the Catholic church in this country was a most agreeable and pleasant surprise to me. I do not wish to be understood as saying that this country will become the center of the Catholic world; I meant to infer that its history, past and to come, is, and will be, written in letters of gold. Its progress here has been remarkable, and it is destined in the future to be a storehouse for Catholicism of the world and a preventive against the attacks of those who have no faith or who are in danger of being led astray by the so-called modernism or materialism. Religion, I believe, is fostered under a republican form of government as well as under any other, of which no better example could be found than in the United States."

PHYSICIAN TAKES STRYCHNINE.

(Special Correspondence.)
Toronto, May 22.—Dr. Pappa, of Roland's Landing, took an overdose of strychnine in an hotel here. The prompt action of physicians saved his life.

SOCIALIST CANDIDATE.

Port Arthur, Ont., May 22.—The Socialists announced yesterday that Geo. T. English, of the Typographical Union, and one of their members, will be a candidate for Port Arthur in the provincial elections.

CUNARD LINE S. S. LUSITANIA.

To-day three ocean records were broken by the above steamship when she dropped her anchors off Sandy Hook lightship, on arriving from Liverpool. Averaging a speed of 24.83 knots an hour, she made the voyage from Daunt's Rock, Ireland, across the Atlantic, over the long course, in four days 20 hours and 22 minutes, thus eclipsing the record of her sister ship, the Mauretania, by three hours and 37 minutes.

LET AT LAST.

Contract for Fort Garry Depot Now Said to Be Awarded.

Winnipeg, May 22.—Much satisfaction was expressed here yesterday on the announcement that the contract for the big union depot for the Grand Trunk Pacific and Canadian Northern railways had at last been awarded. Peter Lyle, Jr., and Peter Mitchell, the western manager of Lyle & Sons, confirm the report that their firm are the successful tenderers and state that the work will be rushed and the building completed by the time prescribed, August, 1909.

CAB DRIVER MAY SOLVE FOUL CRIME

Chicago Detectives Probing
Mystery of Brutal Alley Murder.

Chicago, Ill., May 22.—The solution of the mystery surrounding the murder of Robert C. Holmes, purchasing agent for the Commonwealth Edison Electric Company, whose dead body was found in a downtown alley early yesterday, will disclose, it is thought, the operations of experts in crime. That the killing and robbery of Holmes was not the work of ordinary thugs, but was perpetrated by men probably mingled with the victims' friends at the auditorium, presenting themselves to be delegates to the electrical convention, and then followed him as he left the hotel, the police authorities agree. They are working all day on the tragedy.

ENDANGERED AT HYDROPHOBIA AUTOPSY

Physician Making Examination is Inoculated—Mad Dog in Brooklyn Streets.

New York, May 22.—Dr. Ira Vangiesen, expert on hydrophobia for the New York board of health, was inoculated yesterday while making an autopsy on the body of William H. Marsh, the Brooklyn manufacturer, who died of that disease yesterday. Dr. Vangiesen scratched his arm with one of the bones from Mr. Marsh's body. Dr. Vangiesen said he had been inoculated before, and he expressed only annoyance at the accident. He went to the laboratory of the board of health for treatment, and will go to the Pasteur Institute later.

The autopsy showed that Marsh died of hydrophobia. There was no sign of poisoning by drugs.

The feeling of alarm in Brooklyn which followed the news of Mr. Marsh's death, and the danger to his son and Miss Thompson, was intensified this afternoon when a mad dog dashed through the streets and bit three persons. The dog was killed by a policeman, and the three people who had been bitten were rushed to a hospital, where their wounds were cauterized, after which they were removed to the Pasteur Institute.

U. S. MAIL SUBSIDIES.

Washington, May 22.—The conference of the two houses of congress on the post office appropriation bill have agreed to incorporate in the law the senate provision for subsidies for carrying mail to Japan, India, Australia, South America and the Philippines. The same rate is to be paid to vessels of the first class, and to vessels of the third class the same as is now paid to vessels of the second class.

MELODRAMATIC MEANS TO STAMP OUT VICE

Pittsburg Women Crusaders
Chase Jap Over Housetops
—Traffic Blocked.

Pittsburg, Pa., May 22.—Women crusaders of the W. C. T. U., under the protection of special police officers, who have caused considerable excitement in prominent downtown cafes in the quest of stray girls, had a thrilling experience last night. The women and officers followed a young girl and a Japanese escort from a cafe to a Fifth avenue office building, gaining access to the office by the fire escape they arrested the girl, but the Japanese escaped to the roof. After a chase over the roof in the darkness from building to building, the officers also captured the foreigner. In the meantime the theatre crowds in Fifth avenue witnessed the sensational chase, and almost tied up traffic. A short time later the women entered one of the Fifth avenue buildings and using the fire escape again gained the arrest of two couples in a third floor office.

JURY DISAGREES IN 'FRISCO GRAFT TRIAL

Fate of Abe Ruef on Bribery Charge Still Hangs in Balance.

San Francisco, May 22.—After being out for nearly forty-four hours the jury in the trial of Abraham Ruef, the central figure in the bribery graft prosecution, against whom many indictments were returned, failed to agree on a verdict and was discharged last night by Judge Rollins.

The specific charge against Ruef in the trial just closed was the offer of a bribe of $1,000 to former supervisor Jennings Phillips to influence his vote favorably on the electric road franchise applied for by the Parkside Realty Co.

The jury stood six to six on the 13 ballots taken. There are 11 indictments still pending against Ruef.

HINDUS LEAVING CANADA.

(Special to The Times.)
Vancouver, May 22.—Eight Hindus left on the Aorangi for Hawaii to-day looking for work.

HOSPITAL CAMPAIGN BEGINS TO-MORROW

Ladies Who Have Consented to Take Part in the Collections.

At a meeting of the ladies in charge of Hospital Day, to be observed throughout Victoria to-morrow, arrangements were fully completed. The ladies in charge and men assistants are as follows: Mrs. C. W. Rhodes, Mrs. Fleming, Mrs. M. Jenkins, Mrs. H. B. Nelson, Mrs. Harold Robertson, Mrs. F. W. Jones, Mrs. Shallick, Mrs. A. F. Griffiths, Mrs. Horsford, Mrs. Hogg and two volunteers, Mrs. R. S. Muller, Mrs. T. Watson, Mrs. Sheldon, Mrs. Simpson, Mrs. Rathorn, Mrs. Armstrong, Mrs. Mitchell, Mrs. Law, Mrs. Hasell, Miss A. Beauland, Miss Goddard, Miss Wallace.

These ladies are asked to meet at the Alexandra Club at 9:30 a. m. to-morrow morning. Badges will be given to all donors, thereby associating them with the work on hand and also as a receipt for their donation. It should be thoroughly understood that this effort is being made to afford to all the opportunity to give according to their ability, and to a most worthy cause, one which certainly should appeal to all the fathers and mothers in the city and district. The churches, the press, the merchants, the B. C. Electric company and the hotels are also giving a most hearty co-operation.

VERDICT A SURPRISE.

Hamilton, Ont., May 22.—A verdict of guilty of murder was brought in yesterday against Giuseppe Greco, charged with the killing of Antoni Belza. In view of the jury came as a surprise. Greco will be sentenced to-day.

GOOD FRIDAY MURDER.

Cooksville, Ont., May 22.—Stefan Swyrda was committed yesterday to stand trial in the autumn for the murder of a fellow countryman named Lutick near Erindale on Good Friday last.

AUSTRALIA PLANS WELCOME TO U. S. FLEET

Military Display May Be Feature of Reception in Sydney.

Melbourne, Australia, May 22.—The official programme for the reception of the American warships has not yet been completed. It is understood that on landing in Sydney the Commonwealth authorities will receive Rear-Admiral Sperry and his officers. It is suggested that delegations from the state authorities and later by the civic authorities at the town hall.

VICTIMS OF TROLLEY CAR COLLISION

Three Cars Wrecked on Brooklyn Bridge During Rush Hours.

New York, May 22.—Fifteen persons were injured, four probably fatally, in a collision of trolley cars at the Manhattan end of the Brooklyn bridge. Andrew Webb, William F. Vaggon, Geo. McGinness and Geo. Smith, all of Brooklyn, were taken to a hospital and one telephoned through the breaking of a rod which controls the brakes of one of the cars.

Because of the heavy rains cars on the bridge were unusually crowded in the rush hours to-day.

CALEDON WRECK CASE.

Toronto, May 22.—Justice MacMahon has dismissed the action of Nathaniel Johnston, of the township of Mulmar, against the C. P. R. for $5,000 damages for injuries alleged to have been received in the Caledon wreck last September. His Lordship was convinced that the nervousness from which the plaintiff is suffering is not the result of the accident.

BODY SOLVES MYSTERY.

Smith's Falls, Ont., May 22.—The body of William Corbett, who disappeared from his home here last Sunday morning, was taken from the river yesterday, thus clearing up the mystery of his disappearance.

JAPAN RAISING $10,000,000.

London, May 22.—The Japanese financial agent here has placed with the financial houses of London South Manchurian railway notes to the amount of $10,000,000 at 5 per cent, maturing in 1911.

WILL BE LYNCHED.

Negro Who Killed Policeman Takes Refuge in Louisiana Swamp.

New Orleans, La., May 22.—A Picayune special from Meridian, Miss., last night says that the negro, Lewis Watson, who killed a policeman while at Meridian early yesterday, has been surrounded in the Tomba swamp near Macot, Ala., and that he probably will be lynched. After killing the officer the negro fled and has been pursued by posse.

KILLED BY BASEBALL.
Player Struck Over Heart During Game
Dies Instantly.

Pittsburg, Pa., May 22.—In the midst of an exciting game of baseball in Hazelwood yesterday Ralph C. Barr, aged 11, one of the players, was struck over the heart by a hard line drive and died almost instantly. Harry Wertz, aged 19, who hit the ball, was arrested along with six other players and locked up, but later were released on an order from the coroner.

Course of C. P. R. in Shopmen's Grievances

(Special to The Times.)
Winnipeg, May 22.—No progress was made yesterday afternoon at the conciliation board, the C. P. R. not being represented, so Chairman Macdonald declined to go on, and wired the Minister of Labor to appoint another member.

Chairman Macdonald ruled that the grievances of the shopmen should be considered in both eastern and western divisions. The C. P. R. representative held that the conciliation board should only deal with the western division, and on above decision being rendered he withdrew.

FOR PROTECTION OF ORCHARDS

ENTOMOLOGIST FINDS A FRIENDLY BUG

Parasite, Stuffed With Ice, is Transplanted to Foreign Soil.

San Francisco, Cal., May 22.—After a remarkable quest in the Far East for the natural enemies of pests that infest American orchards, George Compere, entomologist, arrived here on the liner China last night, successful. He left in Western Australia a parasite that was deducting the ravages of fruit fly to a noticeable degree.

This parasite was discovered five years ago in India, but previous attempts to introduce it into Australia failed on account of the opposite season. By putting the bugs to sleep in India with ice, Compere got 100,000 of them to Australia alive. He woke them up in the Australian winter. The parasite, apparently thinking they were still in India, went to work with a will. Three generations of native bugs saw the light before Compere left the Antipodes. He also took to Australia a parasite which swept like fire the cabbage aphid on apple.

Mr. Compere has brought to California a parasite to destroy the mealy bug, a pest that causes great grief to the orange growers. He discovered this friendly bug in Japan.

BLACKMAILERS IN OTTAWA.

Ottawa, May 22.—Many prominent people of the capital are again receiving blackmailing letters, and a stir is caused locally. They are of the same calibre as those for which a young man is now undergoing imprisonment. The light sentence meted out to the first man may have encouraged other foolish persons to make an attempt. The city police have not been officially informed, but it is probable the Dominion police have news which is not being told.

TRACED THROUGH SWEETHEART.

Toronto, May 22.—Franklin Patterson and T. H. Davey were arrested yesterday charged with the robbery of the Grand Trunk depot at Hawkestone, about thirteen miles from Barrie. Patterson was traced to a house on Gerrard street through a money order which Patterson's sweetheart cashed. The girl confessed that she cashed it for Patterson, and was later followed to the house in which Patterson and his chum were living.

PRESBYTERIAN ASSEMBLY.
Gathering at Kansas Will Discuss Many Important Subjects.

Kansas, Mo., May 22.—With the presentation of reports of the special committee the general assembly of the Presbyterian church commenced the important business of its session to-day. During the next week the assembly reports will be made from various parts of the world on every conceivable phase of Christian work connected with the church. Denominations, unity, marriage and divorce, also are important subjects to be considered.

BREAKS WORLD RECORD.

London, May 22.—T. A. Fisher, of London, has broken the world's record for road cycling, covering a thousand miles in 81 hours 19 minutes, beating the previous record by twelve hours.

PROSPERITY ON THE PRAIRIES

A RECORD SEASON IS PROMISED NOW

J. C. Feilde Says Every One is Optimistic—Victoria in Public Eye.

J. C. Feilde, of the real estate firm of Feilde & Pemberton, Government street, who has just returned from a trip as far east as Winnipeg, brings back with him reports of the prairie country to the effect that there will be a splendid season this year, and that at the present time all money claims are being promptly met as due by the farmers. An optimistic view is taken by all with whom Mr. Feilde came in contact, business men, farmers and others speaking with one mind as to the future.

Mr. Feilde during his absence stayed over and visited in Winnipeg, Neepawa, Elkhorn and Oak Lake, where the same reports all awaited him as to the general prosperity. In the farming districts he says that the wheat is now all in, and well up, being from two to four inches above the ground at the time of his leaving a few days ago.

"This year in the prairie country," says Mr. Feilde, from the reports that reached him and from his own observation, "the crop is at least three weeks ahead of last year. The farmers are all optimistic and money all over the prairie country is loosening up and all country paper during the last six weeks has been met promptly."

Mr. Feilde found talk all along the line of the Pacific coast and was asked to answer many inquiries as to the chances that await the settler here. In all the places visited he found great talk of the Pacific slope and spoke with many settlers who are awaiting the time when they will have sold their property before coming out here to settle. Vancouver island was continually mentioned, and most of the inquiries directed towards it, and to Victoria.

"Victoria seems to have been well advertised in the prairie country," said Mr. Feilde. "Everyone knows of it and all are anxious to learn more. The climate is a great attraction for them and those who have been here have all taken good reports back to their homes and spread the advantages of the island." Mr. Feilde says that Victoria is as much spoken of there as any place in the west.

He found that immigration from England is lighter than it was last year, but still continues and now consists of a better class of immigrant than formerly, those coming out to-day being of the capitalized class who have money for investment in farm lands.

He found that seventy per cent. of those who came out are in Winnipeg. Mr. Feilde said that there was no boom there nor any sign of speculation, but there was a healthy competition and a strong demand for homes. There are at present few vacant houses and building prospects he found to be very bright. "There are numbers of people there who are waiting to dispose of their homes and estates, both among the farmers and the business people before coming here to settle. Altogether the outlook of the prairie country is as fine as can be wanted and one of the best seasons on record is looked for this year."

WILL PUT CURB ON CIGARETTE HABIT

Boys Under 16 Years to Be Punished if Caught Smoking.

Ottawa, May 22.—A federal law forbidding the use of cigarettes by youths under 16 years of age will be introduced by Hon. Mr. Aylesworth this session. It will probably take the form of an amendment to the criminal code, which will be applicable to the whole Dominion.

The sale of cigarettes to boys under 16 will be made punishable by a fine not exceeding $10 for the first offence, and more severe penalties for subsequent offences. Police will be authorized to confiscate any cigarettes found in the possession of youths under 16, and any boy who offends against the statute will be liable to a fine of $1 for the first offence, $3 for the second and $4 for the third and subsequent offences.

TOBACCO LITIGATION.

New York, May 22.—Counsel for the American Tobacco Company continued their arguments yesterday before the judges of the United States Circuit court in the suit of the government against the company for alleged violations of the Sherman anti-trust law. It is likely that the arguments will continue at least through the remainder of the present week.

PARIS EXPLOSION VICTIMS.

Two Die While 42 Are Injured in Sugar

NO ALL-CANADIAN
ROUTE TO THE YUKON

Question of G. T. P. Shipping Supplies to Prince Rupert via Seattle.

(Special to the Times).

Ottawa, May 22.—In the Commons this afternoon J. E. Armstrong drew the attention of the government to an article in a Vancouver paper stating that the G. T. P. intended to use Seattle as the port of departure and the basis of supplies for the freight sent to Prince Rupert pending the completion of its own line.

Hon. G. P. Graham, replying said, it was a regrettable fact that Seattle had been built up at the expense of the Canadian coast cities, owing largely to the refusal of a Conservative senate to sanction the agreement for the building of the Yukon railway. The minister added that the difficulty at this stage of control was how contractors on the road should ship goods.

Col. Hughes said the last time Sir Hibbert Tupper addressed the Conservative caucus in Ottawa, he told them they had made a mistake in not loyally supporting the Liberal party in pushing the all Canadian route to the Yukon.

Rose Rife Debate.
Col. Hughes, continuing the debate on the Rose Rife severely criticized the members of his own party for the attitude taken with reference to the new national arm. He defended the course taken by Sir F. Borden.

DEATH OF GENERAL MANAGER CABLE BOARD

Charles Henry Reynolds, C. J. E., general manager of the Pacific cable board, died yesterday at Lisbon, Portugal, where he recently went to attend the International Telegraph Conference.

Born on January 15, 1844, Mr. Reynolds had an eventful and distinguished career. He was educated at the London University College and the Glasgow University and entered the India Government telegraph service in 1865. In 1886 he was appointed director general of telegraphs in India and held this position until his retirement in 1899. For his services during the Tiran and Northwest Frontier rebellions in India in 1897, he was made the recipient of special praise and the thanks of both the commander-in-chief of the Indian forces and the Indian government. His services during the famine of 1874 and on several other occasions were also officially recognized, and he was decorated as a consequence.

The deceased was the son of the late Major W. Reynolds, Indian army, Bombay. He was known in Victoria, having visited this city in 1902 and 1906 on his way to inspect the Pacific cable station at Banfield creek.

—The Knights of Columbus Dramatic club will entertain the public to Champagne and Oysters at Institute Hall to-night. Prices, 50c and 75c.

—The death occurred last night at St. Joseph's hospital of Agnes Olga Buckholtz, the little adopted daughter of Capt. and Mrs. Buckholtz, of this city. The child was aged 2 years and 5 months. About 14 days ago she was taken ill. Pneumonia developed, and a week ago she was removed to the hospital. In spite of all that could be done, however, she became worse and passed away last evening. Up to the time of her last illness the child has been in the best of health, and her death is felt severely by Capt. and Mrs. Buckholtz. The funeral will take place to-morrow at 3 o'clock in the afternoon from Hanna's undertaking parlors. The services will be conducted by Rev. Mr. Connell.

—One he leads to another. See it illustrated at Institute Hall to-night.

EVIDENCE GIVEN AT YESTERDAY'S SITTING

A Number of Witnesses Examined in Garesche-Carter Case.

Yesterday saw the examination of several witnesses in the Carter-Garesche trial, including the cross-examination of Mrs. McIntosh by Mr. Higgins and the hearing of Doctors Ernest and Frank Hall, Chief Langley and J. P.
Mann, city solicitor. Mrs. McIntosh was put through a rigorous cross-examination to show if possible that blackmail had figured in the case, and there were a number of clashes between her and Mr. Higgins. Throughout her evidence there was an unmistakable hostility to Dr. Garesche for having placed her and her daughter in the position which they at present occupied in the public eye. Dr. Ernest Hall merely gave evidence as to Dr. Carter having had the use of an office adjoining his, while Dr. Frank Hall gave medical testimony in connection with the case. Chief Langley's evidence was to the effect that the McIntoshes had no part in the starting of the prosecution, while Mr. Mann told of the negotiations with Dr. Garesche regarding a settlement.

The prosecution has several more witnesses to be heard after which the defence will be heard.

When the court resumed in the afternoon Mr. Higgins again took up his cross-examination of Mrs. McIntosh.
She couldn't say whether she had discussed the matter of getting money from Garesche with her daughter. She might have mentioned it to her. She had never asked money from Dr.
Garesche. She had left the matter to Mr. Mann. Dr. Garesche had, however, offered her money. She had gone to Dr. Garesche's office to tell him to settle with Mr. Mann. Dr. Garesche had told her it was a case of blackmail and for her to go. By the word
"settle" she had meant the payment of money.

Mr. Higgins took considerable time in an effort to make Mrs. McIntosh admit that she knew, when making a demand on Dr. Garesche for settlement that her daughter had acted improperly with a dentist in Vancouver. This Mrs. McIntosh refused to do. She had heard her daughter say to Mr. Mann that she had not been intimate with any man in Victoria except Dr.
Garesche, but had been intimate with a man in Vancouver. She, however, had not given consideration to these facts.

"This is no laughing matter," said Mr. Higgins. "It's a serious thing to think of sending two innocent men to jail."

Mr. Taylor: "It's a serious thing to ruin her daughter and then attempt to blacken her character."

Mr. Higgins: "And it's a serious thing to commit perjury."

Mr. Taylor: "Yes, I should think it is."

Continuing, Mrs. McIntosh said she was not responsible for the starting of the prosecution, although she felt that such action would let the world know who was right and who was wrong in the matter. She desired to see Doctors Carter and Garesche punished for what they had done to her daughter, and had always done so. She had not gone to the police because she did not desire the disgrace that the publicity of a trial would entail. No amount of money would recompense her for the damage to her daughter's reputation and for what she had undergone. She had not demanded money from Dr. Carter because Dr. Garesche had been responsible for her daughter's downfall, and Dr. Carter had been brought into the case by Dr. Garesche.

Turning to the visit of two men to her home, Mr. Higgins undertook to cross-examine Mrs. McIntosh at length.
In effect she said that Gordon and Curtis had come to her place on Saturday last and had talked with her daughter about the room used by Dr.
Carter. Gordon had talked of his having a wife and advised her to be careful in the case now under consideration for the sake of her daughter. Gordon and Curtis had told her and her daughter to come down to the Poodle Dog and they would show her daughter
a room that her daughter could swear to having been in.

"Didn't Curtis say you don't want to say you went into room No. 5? You had better try 46," asked Mr. Higgins.
"No, it was the other man who said
to try 46," was the reply. "He said Lawyer Higgins would say No. 5 was occupied."

In reply to further questions she said
there had been some talk between her daughter and Curtis about there being a fire-place in the room. The man Gordon was drunk. Gordon had told her that Lawyer Higgins wanted him to say everything in his favor. She had refused to go with these men to the Poodle Dog or to let her daughter go.
She had told them she would telephone Detective Palmer and that, if her daughter went to the Poodle Dog it would be with him. Curtis had not said anything about blackmailing Dr.
Carter.

Mr. Taylor: "We will describe that $250 incident in due time."

Mr. Higgins: "Just what I want is Curtis in the box."

Mr. Taylor: "Don't fret, you'll have him."

At this stage Judge Lammman inquired what all this talk about these men was about, and Mr. Higgins explained that Gordon was a detective who had been hired by him. The man worked at the Poodle Dog hotel, but had a detective's certificate from the Webster Detective Agency at Indianapolis. He had heard that Curtis was going to see Mrs. McIntosh and had hired Gordon to go with him to watch what was doing. This man Curtis had been discharged from the Poodle Dog and was trying to get even.

"One of them was drunk, you said?"

asked Mr. Higgins.

"Yes, Gordon was drunk," was the reply.

Mr. Higgins asked if anything had been said about paying money to the man in connection with the case, and Mrs. McIntosh replied that Gordon had said that he was afraid Mr. Higgins would have to pay and that he was to go around to see him after the case was over. Curtis had said he had seen Dr. Carter in the Poodle Dog hotel the day of the alleged operation. She had called Curtis back when he was going out and told him that if he gave the proper evidence he would not be forgotten. Curtis had later in the day come back alone.

Curtis had told her he intended to do what was right and she had told him that she was glad to know it.
Curtis had told her that Mr. Smith,
one of the proprietors of the Poodle Dog hotel, had come to him where he was working at the Strand cafe, and had asked him whether he intended to say with the "house" in connection with the case. She asked Curtis to leave his name and address in order that she might tell Detective Palmer where to find him. She had sent the name and address to Mr. Palmer by Mr. Moore, the police court prosecutor.
She had not met Curtis again from Saturday until she saw him in the court house. Her daughter had visited Mrs. Davies when she ran the Poodle Dog hotel.

Mr. Taylor postponed his re-examination of Mrs. McIntosh until after some other testimony had been called.

Dr. Ernest Hall then went into the witness box. He had allowed Dr.
Carter the use of an outer room adjoining his office for the purpose of meeting male patients only. He had not allowed him to use his consulting room or any other portion of his office.
Dr. Carter had the use of this outer room during October, November, December, January and February.

John M. Langley, chief of the Victoria's police, followed. He had commenced this prosecution as a result of rumors that were flying around town of Doctors Carter and Garesche. He had requested Sergeant Detective Palmer to bring Mrs. and Miss McIntosh to him and he had questioned them. There was no request from Mrs. or Miss Mc-Intosh that a prosecution be undertaken. They had appeared unwilling that this should be done.

Dr. Frank W. Hall testified to having treated Miss McIntosh for an abortion. He had at first refused to undertake her case until she told him who was responsible for the condition in which he found her. This she had done in the presence of her mother when he visited the house the second time. She had said that Dr. Garesche was implicated and told of Dr. Carter's connection with the case. Dr. Garesche had not paid him for treating the girl, although he had promised to do so.

In cross-examination he said that Mrs. McIntosh had told him that her daughter was not truthful. Providing a certain hypothetical case that Mr.
Higgins put to him were founded on fact, the girl's illness might have been due to other causes than an abortion.
He had seen no evidence that this was so, although there was one symptom that might bear out Mr. Higgins' suspicion.

Judge Lammman directed some questions to Dr. Hall, who replied that an examination of the girl at the present time would enable him to speak with authority on the matter.

Mrs. McIntosh was then recalled for re-examination, but after a few questions was told she was through.
J. P. Mann, city solicitor, was next called by the prosecution. As soon as the witness had been sworn Mr. Taylor told Mr. Higgins to go on with his cross-examination as he did not propose to ask any questions.

In reply to Mr. Higgins' questions,
Mr. Mann said that he had been consulted by Mrs. McIntosh in connection with the case. Wanting to learn the facts regarding the story he had sent for Dr. Carter, who had come to his office. He had been particular to warn Dr. Carter that anything he might say to him might be used in court against him. Dr. Carter had then denied what had been alleged by Miss McIntosh, although he said he had examined her. He had also seen Dr. Garesche and had also warned him that anything he might say might be used against him.

Dr. Garesche, while admitting intimacy with Miss McIntosh had intimated that she had not been living a good life. He had told Dr. Garesche that it was all the more shame to him to keep the girl in his employ. He had approached Dr. Garesche about a settlement while the girl was in the hospital, and it was about three weeks afterwards when the girl had practically admitted to him
by her silence in reply to questions put to her something of her past life before she first met Dr. Garesche.

He had figured out the amount that Dr. Garesche should pay by taking into consideration the fact that it would be well to place the girl in new surroundings, that she would be taught

some new vocation and that her mother would be without her services for a certain time. He had told Dr. Garesche that if he did not settle on the basis suggested by him he would wipe his hands of the whole case. He had told Mrs. McIntosh that she had better see the police about the matter. Being doubtful about his position in the matter, being city solicitor, he had had a special meeting of the police commissioners, when he had laid the case before them. At that time he did not believe what was alleged, for he recognized the difficulty of establishing such a charge.

Shortly after Mr. Taylor started his re-examination of Mr. Mann, Mr. Higgins objected to a question as to whether any demand had been made upon him for a return of the money paid by Dr. Garesche, saying that Mr. Taylor had not the right to ask such a question as it had not been mentioned in cross-examination. Mr. Taylor explained that as he had not asked Mr. Mann any questions at the start, he had the right to do as he was doing. The cross-examination was all that he had to do on, and he could ask any questions he liked that touched on it. That was good logic, he thought.

Judge Lammman: "You are taking it for granted that the law is logical?"

The judge allowed the question and Mr. Mann replied that no demand had been made for a return of the money paid to him by Dr. Garesche in connection with the case.

To the judge, Mr. Mann said he had made an investigation of the charge of abortion and had come to the conclusion that there had been no abortion.
When Mrs. McIntosh had first come to him she had mentioned no sum to be asked of Dr. Garesche. She had said that Dr. Garesche had told her he would settle but after the incident when he said there was $100 in a roll which he had given her, while in reality there was only $75, she would not trust him.
The only leverage he had used on Dr.
Garesche was that he had prepared and filed a writ of seduction, which if it came to trial would be as bad for him as a prosecution. From his experience
he knew the difficulty of proving abortion charges. He had no instructions to collect civil damages from Dr.
Carter. His duty was to get money from Dr. Garesche for seduction.

This concluded Mr. Mann's evidence and the court adjourned for the day.

PREPARATIONS MADE FOR LACROSSE MATCH

Team Practice Held Last Evening Shows Men to Be in Excellent Form.

Great preparations are being made for the lacrosse match for the championship of British Columbia between the Victoria and Fairview intermediates. Both of these teams will be about equal to seniors, for no man is disallowed from playing until he has taken part in four seniors' matches.
Yesterday evening the team had a practice together, and they showed excellent form. The men have been chosen according to their merits, and they are a good dozen, such men as may be depended upon to bring the championship to this city if there is any possibility of so doing this year.

The team for the senior game, which is to be played Monday morning, will be chosen immediately after the close of to-morrow's match.

No claim has yet been presented by the owners of the fishing schooner

"FLAG IDOLATRY"

It is not at all surprising to find that Premier Asquith of Great Britain rather deprecates the idea of flag worship. Given a fitting occasion, the Briton does not mind giving emotional expression to his feelings of patriotism; but, except under special circumstances, he takes it for granted that his sentiments towards his country, like his feelings towards his family, are thoroughly understood. Hence it is that the exuberance of his neighbors, as for instance his cousins of the United States, when the flag is displayed, the Briton regards not perhaps exactly as bad form, but as the natural ebullitions of a young nation "just finding herself." Who shall undertake to say the estimate of the outwardly phlegmatic and apparently unemotional Briton is not correct? A large proportion of the population of the United States is foreign-born. It has found nearly everything in its adopted country good. The change of allegiance has produced splendid results if the immigrant chance to be of the right sort, determined to get on in life by making the most of his opportunities under new and improved conditions. He is admitted at once to citizenship and feels that he has a deep personal interest in all that pertains to the welfare of a great nation. Naturally, being a new citizen, he feels like impressing his fellow-citizens with the fathomless depths of his patriotism. He reverts the flag under which he has gained personal liberty and achieved personal prosperity. He falls into the habit of waving it and nailing it up in conspicuous places, possibly of saluting it with a considerable degree of ostentation. If some thoughtful person who thinks he knows something about the relative degrees of freedom and liberty enjoyed under different flags should inadvertently place the Union Jack, say, in a more prominent position than the Stars and Stripes, behold there is a demonstration, with an accompaniment of threats if apologies be not tendered for the "outrage." These little outbursts were at one time regarded somewhat seriously. Now they only create amusement in the United States as well as in Canada. They are the natural product of what may be called "new citizenship." There is a disposition, with which we have little sympathy, to introduce this sort of flamboyant patriotism into Canada. Some of the western provinces are insisting that the old flag must be flown upon all schoolhouses during school hours. Perhaps this regulation may be necessary in localities where the population is largely of foreign origin. It may be well to teach the young idea foreign to the soil the vital principles for which the flag stands. Doubtless the educational authorities understand what is needful under the peculiar circumstances which prevail in many of the school sections of the great Northwest. Yet we question whether "flag idolatry" would be a pleasant thing to have transplanted into Canada, if there be any danger of its taking the form so frequently exhibited in the United States. The Manchester Guardian, one of the most influential of the great British dailies, thus comments upon the subject:

"An outcome of the self-conscious patriotism which is universal in Canada, and which so often strikes the British newcomer as something forced and unreal, is a curious law lately passed by the province of Manitoba ordering the Union Jack to be hoisted over all public schools during the hours of work. If any school district neglects to fly the national flag it will lose the grant from the government—a serious penalty. One result of the law will be that the hauling down of the Union Jack will have the most agreeable associations in the minds of the children."

BRITISH SKILL AND ENTERPRISE

The great steamship Lusitania, just to prove to the world that she has merely been hitherto jogging along at a leisurely pace, has clipped a few more hours off the Atlantic records. The voyage so successfully completed was the first real test of the steamer's capacity. Agents of the Imperial Government were on board to satisfy themselves whether the vessel came up to the requirements under which her owners would be entitled to the extra subsidies. The actual results in figures of the test have not yet been made public, but there seems to be no doubt whatever that the estimates of the builders have been attained, with a considerable margin to come and go upon. Consequently there is no longer any doubt that in the Lusitania and Mauretania British engineers have achieved a signal triumph. Their competitors in Germany—the only country in the world now which seriously attempts at competition in the construction of fast ships—have up to the present time maintained that the Cunarders were an experiment, and a very doubtful experiment too. But the completion of the Lusitania's latest voyage demonstrates beyond peradventure that there was nothing experimental in the heavy task undertaken by the engineers of the Clyde and the Tyne. They had the actual results figured down almost to a decimal point. They knew the number of knots an hour that could be worked off and the amount of coal and water which would be consumed in doing it. The New York Scientific American, a technical journal which has never been niggardly in ascribing the fullest credit to the genius of the designers of the hulls and engines of the Cunarders, in an article recently printed, comments in a very interesting manner upon the performances of these British steamers. At the last meeting of the Institution of Naval Architects, it says, a paper was presented by Mr. Thomas Bell on the speed of the Lusitania, which made public, for the first time, the facts concerning that much-discussed matter, the coal consumption of the new turbine liners. In view of the great secrecy which has been maintained by the builders and owners of recent turbine-driven ships, and particularly those of large horse-power, it is decidedly gratifying to have, not only the matter of coal consumption, but also all the principal data of the performance of one of these ships, published for the benefit of the profession. Among the various tables given in the paper, the most valuable is the abstract of the engine room log for the third voyage west from Queenstown to New York, which commenced at noon, November 23rd last, and finished off Sunday Hook at 1:34 a. m. on November 28th. The total distance run was 2,781 knots; the time, 4 days, 18 hours, and 40 minutes; the longest day's run 618 miles, and the average speed of the whole voyage, 24.25 knots. The average daily coal consumption for the four complete days of about twenty-five hours each was 1,900 tons. Just here it is interesting to note how exact is the art of designing fast steamships, as shown by the fact that the estimated coal consumption when the designs were drawn up, was 1,900 tons average per day. The total bunk capacity of the Lusitania is 6,200 tons, or sufficient, at this rate of coal consumption, to carry the ship 500 miles farther than the distance from Queenstown to Sandy Hook. On the voyage referred to, the actual amount of coal consumed for the engines, was 4,975 tons, while 15 tons was consumed in the galley, etc. It should be noted that the mean draft of the ship was about 32 feet, and her displacement about 32,600 tons. The weather throughout the trip is described as having been the average mid-Atlantic winter weather, with strong winds and boisterous seas. During the first half of the voyage the mean speed was 24.65 knots; but a furious southwesterly gale served to reduce the speed for the last twenty-four hours below 23 knots, and to bring down the mean average of the whole trip to 24.25 knots.

Of great interest, also, are the figures offered by Mr. Bell of the data secured on the 1,200-mile trial. The horse-power, as determined by the shaft torsimeter, was 68,850, giving an average speed of 25.4 knots. The total consumption of steam in the turbines in pounds per hour was 575,500, and the total consumption of the auxiliaries was 116,500 pounds per hour. The steam consumption of the turbines in pounds per horse-power hour was 12.77, and the total steam consumption for all purposes was 14.46 pounds per horse-power hour. The coal consumption per horse-power hour worked out at 1.43 including, of course, the auxiliaries. Now, this consumption is about the same as that of the high-speed German liners, using multiple-expansion reciprocating engines, Howden's forced draft, and other modern refinements. Mr. Bell and those responsible for the Cunard ships are to be congratulated on having published these data, and thereby set at rest the absurd rumors, to the effect that the coal consumption on these big ships was so great that they had, at times, difficulty in making port. During the discussion of the paper, the builders both of the Mauretania and Lusitania expressed their confidence that when the working staff had become thoroughly conversant with the ships, speeds equal to those obtained on trial would be realized, under favorable weather conditions, on the Atlantic passage. In this connection, it is interesting to note that on trial the Lusitania averaged 25.4 knots, and the Mauretania 26.04 knots over a course of 1,200 miles.

The executive of the Conservative Association of British Columbia, of which Mr. G. H. Barnard of Victoria is president, approves of the attitude of the opposition at Ottawa to the Dominion Elections Bill. Of course the attitude of the executive of the Conservative Association is the result of a devout desire to have clean, up-to-date voters' lists and fair elections upon those lists. And of course this eminently desirable result will be more likely to be attained if the lists are made up by appointees of the McBride government than if they were compiled by judges of the courts. That is a proposition worthy of the esteemed executive of the British Columbia Conservative Association of which Mr. G. H. Barnard of Victoria is president. But it is not a proposition that can be harmonized with the experience of the past.

IS CONCLUDEDGARESCHE AND CARTER'S DEFENSE TO COMEConclusion of the Evidence for the Prosecution This Morning.

The evidence of the crown in the Garesche-Carter case was concluded just as court adjourned to-day, and this afternoon the defence will open. The feature of the morning was the evidence of Detective Clayards, who told of Dr. Carter's statements at the time of his arrest and of T. M. Curtis, formerly a waiter in the Poodle Dog hotel, who swore that he had seen Dr. Carter in the Poodle Dog about the time of the alleged operation. Mr. Higgins' cross-examination brought out the fact that this man had been approached by parties for the defence. He had been called into the Poodle Dog last Sunday evening, where he had met Mr. Higgins, Dr. Carter, and Messrs. Smith and Shaughnessy, proprietors of the hotel. He admitted that he had held out for money on that occasion to leave the city, but said that Mr. Higgins had suggested his going over to Seattle to see the fleet, and coming to him when the case was over. After Mr. Higgins had concluded his cross-examination Mr. Taylor took him in hand again, and after that Judge Lampman had him repeat the story all over again for him. The man swore he had been threatened with arrest if he gave evidence in the case.

When the court resumed W. J. Taylor, for the prosecution, announced that he desired to recall Miss McIntosh for a few questions.

His first was: "You told me that on one occasion while in Dr. Garesche's office, Dr. Carter asked you to go to the skating rink?"

"Yes."

"Did you have any further talk with Dr. Carter in Dr. Garesche's office?"

"Yes." The witness then proceeded to tell how one day while she was sitting holding her head Dr. Carter had asked her what was the matter, and she had told him that she was suffering from a bad cold. This was about a week before she had met Dr. Carter on the street.

"Do you remember your talk with Ruth Owens over the telephone?"

"Yes."

"Was there any talk as to where she was living?"

"Yes, I told her it was too bad she was in such a place, but she had replied that it was 'the best kind of life there is.'"

In re-examination Mr. Higgins went back to the girl's Vancouver experience, asking her if she recognized a man to whom he pointed, and she replied that she did and that he was Dr. Longe. She did not think she had given Dr. Longe her own name in Vancouver.

Mr. Higgins proceeded to ask questions relating to matters that had come up previously, when Judge Lampman broke in with: "What's the use of going over this again?"

Mr. Higgins: "I didn't think your honor was satisfied."

Judge Lampman: "I haven't forgotten."

Mr. Higgins next produced Dr. Garesche's engagement book, and asked if she had ever seen it. Mr. Taylor objected to the question until he had seen the book, and demanded that Mr. Higgins let the court know what particular portion of it he intended to refer to. He had the right to see any document before it was produced in court.

Mr. Higgins refused to answer anything until the witness had seen it.

Mr. Taylor was eventually handed the book and looked into its contents and after announced that the result was eminently satisfactory to his side of the case.

Mr. Higgins then presented the book to Miss McIntosh, who identified it and without difficulty turned up a certain entry affecting the case which she had sworn had been made in the book.

Mr. Higgins proceeded to ask other questions already dealt with and Mr. Taylor objected, pointing out that the matter was already on record.

Mr. Higgins: "I appear to be annoying you."

Mr. Taylor: "You'd annoy any one. When you have driven a nail in what is the use of smashing the board to pieces?"

J. A. Aikman was next called. He had been retained in connection with the case by Mrs. McIntosh. Mr. Taylor proceeded to ask the witness about a conversation when objection was taken that it did not relate to the case. Mr. Taylor explained that Mr. Aikman desired to give some evidence as some aspersion had been cast upon his reputation during the trial.

Mr. Higgins: "Who made it?"

Mr. Taylor: "You did."

Mr. Higgins explained that he did not want to cast any aspersions on Mr. Aikman's reputation. He was sorry if any one had so understood.

Mr. Aikman asked, however, to be allowed to make a statement.

Judge Lampman: "There is no reflection whatever on your character. While I would like to hear you, I have so much other evidence I am afraid I cannot hear you."

Detective H. Clayards, the next witness, told of arresting Dr. Carter. When he had read the warrant to Dr. Carter, the latter had replied, "She's a little liar." He had then cautioned Carter. After that Carter had told him that he would admit that there had been a consultation and an examination and had told her what would follow. He had told her to go home and tell her mother. Carter appeared upset and exclaimed: "D—these girls coming around. They are coming about to me all the time." At the police station Dr. Robertson came in and as he passed through Dr. Carter had remarked that the girl had also come to him (Robertson) but he had sent her home. He was wise.

The next witness was Sergeant Detective Palmer. He had arrested Dr. Garesche and had cautioned him. Garesche admitted his relations with the girl. He thought the matter all fixed up. The McIntosh had received $400 or $500. He declared he knew nothing about the other thing.

After a brief cross-examination by Mr. Higgins, Judge Lampman directed some questions to the witness, in reply to which Detective Palmer replied that when he had arrested Dr. Garesche the latter had started to say something, but on second thought said: "I guess I had better not say anything to you."

Thomas Michael Curtis, until April 11th a waiter in the Poodle Dog hotel, swore that he had seen Dr. Carter coming out of a room in the Poodle Dog between 4 and 6 o'clock one day early in February about the time that if he alleged the operation was performed. He did not know Dr. Carter at the time, but had learned his name later.

In cross-examination by Mr. Higgins he said that he had not on Sunday evening told a bartender named Frank that he was going after Doctors Carter and Garesche for money in connection with this case. He had been called into the Poodle Dog last Sunday evening by Mr. Smith, one of the proprietors, and had there met Mr. Higgins, Dr. Carter, and Messrs. Smith and Shaughnessy, the owners of the place. When the matter of money was being discussed Mr. Higgins had suggested his coming to his office after the case was over and he would use him right. The witness had held out, however, that any payment that was to be made must be before the trial. Mr. Higgins had told him that Gordon was getting something out of the case. He had not told Gordon that the man whom he had seen in the Poodle Dog was a big man with chin whiskers. "No," replied the witness, "that would have been Dr. Morrison."

He had said in the Poodle Dog Sunday evening that he wanted $250 to get out of town and Carter had said that he would not give him 250 cents. Dr. Carter had not said anything, however, about blackmail. He had not denied to Dr. Carter that he had seen him come out of the room.

In reply to another question the witness replied: "You told me that a trip to Seattle would do me good."

"No, I told you I had better take a trip to Seattle," replied Mr. Higgins. "And I told you I had you just where I wanted you, didn't I?" continued Mr. Higgins.

"You said that you would have me arrested the moment I got off the stand."

Mr. Taylor, addressing Mr. Higgins, "It looks to me that you are the man in the trap."

In reply to other questions the witness said that it was Gordon, the man who made up the beds at the Poodle Dog hotel and whom Mr. Higgins said was a detective employed by him, who had suggested getting a piece of change out of Carter and Garesche. Last Friday evening Mr. Smith had come to see him at the Strand cafe, where he was now working, and had asked him whether he intended to give evidence against the "house" in this case, and he had replied that he was not going to favor any one in his evidence. As to a visit which he and Gordon had made to the McIntosh home, Gordon had suggested it, and had come around and had got him out of bed an hour ahead of the time agreed upon by them for the purpose of going there. Mrs. McIntosh had not promised him any reward for testifying in this case, but had told him that he would get his reward as long as he told the truth.

"Why then did you make a demand on me for money in the Poodle Dog Sunday evening?" pressed Mr. Higgins. "To get a hold on you," replied the witness.

Mr. Higgins: "That will do."

Mr. Taylor then took up his re-examination of the witness. He swore he had told all he knew about Dr. Carter having been in the room, to Detective Palmer and Mr. Moore last Saturday evening, following his visit to the McIntosh home, while on the following evening he had been called into the Poodle Dog and had there met Mr. Higgins, Dr. Carter and Smith & Shaughnessy. When Smith came to him at the Strand Cafe on Friday evening, Smith said that some one had telephoned to the hotel and had asked the witness's full name and that he had then known what was on. In the Poodle Dog Friday evening Smith had urged him to tell the truth where he stood in this case. Mr. Higgins had suggested that the battleship fleet was going to Seattle and suggested that he should go over and see it. Dr.

Carter had told him that he was foolish to mix up in this case. Mr. Higgins had told him that he would be a fool to give him money in advance for he might go back on them at the trial. Mr. Higgins told him to remember what had been done with Baron Von Gassendorf and warned him that he got every man he went after. To this the witness had replied: "Go to it."

He knew Ruth Owens, the woman from Chatham street, who had been mentioned in connection with this case. She lived at the Poodle Dog off and on. That was she would be there once or twice a week to stay.

At this stage Judge Lampman said he did not see what this evidence had to do with the case and Mr. Taylor remarked that that would appear later. Mr. Higgins then announced that he intended to call the Owens woman as a witness and Mr. Taylor stopped his re-examination.

To Judge Lampman the witness said that he had not thought much of the case until Smith had come to him last Friday evening. It was the same night that Gordon had suggested to him that there might be some money in the case for the two, saying that he intended to demand $500, for Doctors Carter and Garesche could afford to pay it. The latter owned a big block. He had told Gordon in April that he had seen Carter coming out of a room in the Poodle Dog at the time of the alleged operation. He had lived in the Poodle Dog until last Monday. He didn't think the police were going to pay him for his evidence in this case. He had not got the money talked about in the Poodle Dog Sunday. "And you haven't seen the battleships either," remarked the judge.

"No, but I would have liked to," replied the witness.

On the way down from the McIntosh home, Gordon had told him that there was no chance of getting money out of the McIntoshes. He had not expected any. Mrs. McIntosh had not promised him any but had merely told him that any one who told the truth would be rewarded.

This concluded Curtis' evidence and Mr. Taylor announced that this was the case for the crown, and suggested that the court should adjourn.

The steamship Needles, which loaded at Portland and sailed from the Royal Roads, arrived at Miramichi on the 15th instant.

These seem to be the general favorites now-a-days, doubtless because they are easily kept clean and are very durable. Their manufacture is an interesting study, tungstate of soda being used to make the rubber rise up porous much in the way that yeast acts in process of bread-making. Mediterranean sponges are still advancing in price, but the Rubber Sponge seems here to supply its place.

COUNTY COURT VACATION.

Change Made in the Months for the Holidays.

A change has been made in the rules regarding the county court vacation season. In this week's gazette there appears the following notice: "There shall be a vacation in the county courts of the province, except the county court of Atlin, from the 1st day of August to the 30th day of September (both days inclusive), in each year," and by substituting "there shall be a vacation in the county courts of the province except the county court of Atlin, from the 1st day of July to the 31st day of August (both days inclusive), in each year."

TO-MORROW'S SPORT.

3 p.m.—Cricket match, Albion vs. Victoria teams on Jubilee grounds.

8:30 p.m.—Twenty round boxing exhibition, Lauder vs. Howell, at Victoria theatre.

AT THE EMPRESS.

The New Moving Pictures Are Mirth-producing.

The bill for the last half of this week at the Empress theatre is very good. It consists of seven pictures and two illustrated songs.

"A Pair of Boots Please," is a good comic. An old fellow steals a pair of hunting boots from a man who is staying at a hotel. When the owner comes to get them he finds they are gone and he at once proceeds to get a pair made to order. He goes to two places and gets two pairs made. One shoemaker comes with a pair but one boot is too small.

The other shoemaker brings his and one of his is also too small. The two then went to their stores to alter them, but the two boots they left behind make a fine pair. The gentleman then leaves on his hunting trip and just after he leaves the shoemakers arrive. There is great commotion when they find he has gone. "The Pirates" show how a beautiful young girl is kidnapped by a number of pirates. They are at last pursued and captured and the girl is restored to her parents. "The Grandchild's Devotion," shows how a young girl who with her grandfather, are in poverty at once become rich on the discovery by the young girl of her father. The others "The Despatch Bearer," "The Enchanted Pond," "Tragic Rivalry" and "Wonderful Flames," are well shown.

The two illustrated songs, "So Long Joe," and "Smile on Me," are well sung.

—A consignment of 24 driving and express horses came over this morning on the Rosalie. They are sent from T. M. Elliott's big horse ranch at Worcester, Wash., and will be sold here as soon as they get over the effects of their trip. Most of them have been broken to the saddle, and also to drive single or double.

—Two drunks occupied the attention of Magistrate Jay in the police court this morning. One got off with a $4 fine and the other, who had been before the court three times this week, was sent to jail for ten days, without the option of a fine, for his own benefit to allow him to straighten up.

—As will be seen in our advertising columns, Stewart Williams & Co., duly instructed by the Ogilvie Hardware Company, will commence to dispose of the remainder of their gigantic stock of hardware, at 1110 Government street, to-morrow afternoon at 2:30, and will continue during the evening. There are still left quantities of carpenter tools, cutlery of all kinds, synthens, screen doors, manilla and cotton rope, washing machines, paints, varnishes, oils, picks, mattocks, enamelware, garden tools, etc. As everything must be disposed of to make way for the new stock, this will be an exceptional chance for picking up new goods at a very low price.

The News Publishing Company, Limited, with a capital of $50,000, divided into 5,000 shares of $10 each. This company will deal in newspapers, printers' supplies and all such things.

IN CHAMBERS.

Applications Disposed of by the Chief Justice To-Day.

In Chambers this morning, before Chief Justice Hunter, an application was made by H. Langley to appoint a guardian for Fanny Deane, a girl of seventeen, who wishes to marry Percy Arnott, of Telegraph Creek. Counsel said that he knew the proposed guardian, W. Hyland, who was a prominent merchant of that place, and Arnott was also a merchant at Deane Lake. The application was necessary under the Marriage Act. W. Hyland was accordingly appointed.

In Re Bosworth vs. J. R. Dunsmyth, an order was made to issue a writ out of the jurisdiction for the recovery of the sum of $1,200 on a note due at the bank.

In Re Alexandra Glazebrook, deceased, an application for probate was granted on application of J. P. Walls.

The injunction in Deakin vs. Deppe, the receivership was continued for another week on application of Barnard & Robertson.

Re Edmund Sadler, deceased, an application for probate was granted on application of Eberts & Taylor.

In Furman vs. E. & N. Railway, an application under the Workmen's Compensation Act to appoint an arbitrator, stands over till Monday.

Re Christina Jay, probate was granted on application of Yates & Jay.

PERSONAL.

Mrs. T. J. Jackman is leaving to-night for Vancouver, from whence she will proceed by the Princess May to Port Essington.

Mrs. Otto Waller and daughter left last night on a visit to friends in California.

Thos. Kipling, of the B. Wilson Co., Ltd., in company with his wife and family, is now on a week's visit to friends in the Sound cities.

Fred. Paine, foreman of the B. Wilson Co., Ltd., has returned from a week's visit to the Sound cities in company with his wife and family.

ARTILLERY CORPS IS GOING INTO CAMP

The Training on Big Guns at Rodd Hill Will Be Taken.

The Royal Canadian Artillery from Work Point barracks, will go into camp at Rodd hill next Wednesday. Capt. Elliston will be in command. The other officers will be Capt. Macdonald and Lieutenants Hagarty and Eaton. There will be about 100 men take their annual training under canvas. At Rodd hill on the opposite side of Esquimalt harbor from the city, is a splendid camping ground. There is abundance of space for the accommodation of about 2,000 men under canvas.

During the time of the annual camp the practice on the guns in the fort will be taken. Firing will take place every day from the heavy and medium guns. It is estimated that in that practice more than ten tons of steel will be fired into the straits. No. 5 company is in a high state of efficiency. The gunners have been training hard all the winter and hope to make a good showing against the companies of Royal Canadian Artillery in other parts of Canada.

INDIANS ARRIVING FOR THE REGATTA

All is Now in Readiness for the Coming Aquatic Event.

The Quamichan Indians arrived last night and will be all ready for the celebration on Monday. The LaConner Indians are also on the way and will be here to-night if all goes well. Practically the whole tribe comes to the city on these occasions, and they have a hiyu potlatch over at the reserve.

The baseball match between the LaConners and the Quamichans will resolve itself into a contest between the Indians of Vancouver Island and those of Washington. The Quamichans are picking up the best Indian players they can find on the island. Some of these are from Saanich and others from the local reservation.

The prizes for the parade are displayed in the windows of W. O. Wallace on the corner of Yates and Douglas street, where they show up to advantage. They are a goodly lot of prizes.

The executive of the celebration met last evening, but there was little to do except to report that everything was now in order, and all that was needed was the best of weather and a big crowd. If the former is obtained the latter is assured.

Once more the attention of the merchants of the city is drawn to the request of the committee asking them to decorate and illuminate their premises for the occasion. On Sunday there will be a number of visitors in the city, and it is highly desirable that the streets should be lighted.

OFFICER COMMENDED.

Examiners for Army Promotion Refer to Paper by Capt. Elliston.

The results of the army promotion examinations held last November, have just been issued in militia orders for Ottawa. The examination papers all come from the war office, London. The examiners state that the result generally was very satisfactory and that the officers of the Canadian permanent forces show that they have studied their subjects carefully. Captain P. Elliston, Royal Canadian Artillery, stationed at Work Point, is specially noted as having done a good paper in military law.

EVERYTHING READY FOR BASEBALL MATCH

Northcott Has Joined Local Nine, as Well as Peden.

The players who will to-morrow afternoon represent the local baseball club in their match against the University of Washington at Oak Bay held their final practice last evening and are now ready and waiting for the umpire to call "Play ball."

Since the last match the team has undergone a hard two weeks training and every man on the team is fit to go the whole game without letting up and unless the players from Seattle prove exceptionally strong they will be treated to a surprise party. In addition to the hard training the team has done during the last two weeks, the lineup has been considerably strengthened, and it will appear more like a Victoria team than it did in the first match. The addition of Rithet on first and Schwengers at second has braced the team wonderfully and the players will go into the game confident that every man will do his best and if it should so happen that they come out at the low end of the score they will have the satisfaction of knowing that they were up against a stronger team.

The infield as it is now composed is made up of experienced players, but only regarding their own position, but in the game as a whole and it will have to be a clever outfit that works any of the old time tricks on the locals. Besides this the batting of the players has improved, and it is safe to say that when the score is made up to-morrow evening the Victoria team will have more than two hits, which was the case in the first match.

The only new man to be introduced to-morrow will be Surplice, who will be depended on to do the heavy work. Although he has been a resident of this city since last October, he was practically unknown until he happened to drop in on the team, and it is needless to say he received a warm welcome and had his arm in any condition to pitch he would have gone in the box in the first match, but to do so would have been to put him out of business for several weeks. He is now in good condition and judging from his showing in practice he should have the visitors on the wagon. He is very deliberate, takes his time, sizes up the situation, and is never at a loss what to do. His team mates have every confidence in him and it is safe to say that there will be very few errors made behind him. At the receiving end Robertson will make his debut in senior company as a catcher and the manner in which he is handling the batters sent over by Surplice he gives promise to developing into a good one. Little need be said regarding the remainder of the nine for to-morrow, his reference has to be made to the two players who will be on the bench, Peden, the local south paw, who joined the team last week, and Northcott, another member of the Bays, who was last evening selected to act as extra catcher and outfielder. The addition of these two players to the senior team should inspire all young players with confidence when they realize that as soon as they can make good they will be given a tryout. This is what all young players are looking for and now that they realize that they are to be given a chance they will make strong efforts to gain recognition. In picking Peden and Northcott the management has only done so after a thorough trial and it is safe to say that both will make good. Peden is slated to do the twirling on Monday.

The University of Washington team are old favorites with Victorians, owing mainly to their gentlemanly behavior on the field. Victorians as a rule have not yet reached that stage when they will stand for rowdiness on the field and the fact that the University boys will be the opponents of the locals should insure a good attendance to-morrow afternoon. Included in the lineup of the visitors are several players who the visitors and the rosters will be given an opportunity to pass their acknowledgments with the satisfaction of knowing that no hard feelings will be caused. The game to-morrow will start sharp at 3 o'clock. This the management will insist on, not only in this game but in every game, and if these instructions are carried out the local club will receive the congratulations of all their supporters. The teams will line up as follows:

U. of W.	Victoria
Hughes	Pitcher
Howe	Supplie
Clemenson	Catcher
Rieser	1st Base
Brown	2nd Base
	3rd Base
	Left Field
	Right Field
	McConnell

The result of selling fine goods, is greatly increased sales.

Semi-ready Summer Suits

Suits at $15 as good as they can be

¶ Ancient habits and customs are hard to stop and still harder to change.

¶ The genesis of fashion began with Joseph's coat of many colours. Adam's fig-leaf was ready-made and was not really fashionable. "Ye tailor of ye olden time" made clothes somewhat as the custom tailor makes them to-day. "Semi-ready" made the first great change.

¶ Men's ready-made clothing has been the synonym for shoddy cloth and shabby making. "Semi-ready" is not ready-made.

¶ To-day most men know that they can buy in the Semi-ready shop a better tailored garment, of finer design and better cloth quality, than most tailors can possibly make.

of the work formerly done by Dan O'Sullivan. What with the training of the ladies' crews at 7 a. m. and the boys in the evening, as well as the routine work there is little time to spare.

Harry Lombard, of Calgary, is looking for a match in this city. His weight is 133 pounds and he is a clever boxer. He wants to come to the coast and if a match can be arranged in Victoria he will be out here within a few weeks. Anyone wishing to communicate with Lombard may do so through the sporting editor of the Times. It is said that Lombard is just as good a man as Lauder.

Young McLagen, who is to box George Paris in the Victoria theatre on Tuesday night, is the amateur champion of England. He is one of a family of boxers and wrestlers and it is thought that he will uphold the honor of the family on Tuesday night.

It will be a difficult matter to-morrow to decide which will be the better game to watch, the baseball or the lacrosse. Some will toss up a coin to decide while others are predisposed to either one game or the other.

Those who have not yet seen the new Royal Athletic park should make a point of being there to-morrow when the local intermediates meet the Fairviews of Vancouver. The local team is in excellent shape.

The Beacon Hill baseball team yesterday defeated the High School at the Beacon Hill grounds by a score of 7 runs to 6.

The Merrifield-Foley match will not take place as advertised. They have failed to secure a permit for the bout.

LAUDER IS TRAINING AT JAMES BAY CLUB

Calgary Lad None the Worse for Fight With Ritchie.

Billy Lauder came over the evening before last after his scrap with Bob Ritchie, and is working out at the J. B. A. He trains hard, and his manager is relentless in exacting the full pound of flesh. He was seen at work yesterday, and he certainly should be in the best of condition.

"I can beat Howell all right," said Lauder. "When I met him at Calgary I won out on a foul, but I can beat him anyway. He is taller than I am by some three inches or more, and his reach is longer, but that makes no difference. I shall win out."

"What sort of a match did you have with Ritchie? You do not seem to have been punished much."

"Fighting with pillows on your hands it is pretty hard to knock a man out, but I beat him on points. I had the best of the game all through."

"Have you been beaten here?" inquired the reporter.

"Not in Canada." I have had twenty fights in this country, and have not lost one. In Scotland I fought over one hundred times, and was beaten only twice. That was when I was a novice."

Lauder certainly looks like a fast man with the gloves. He is quick as lightning, and is said to be very clever. For a long time the Victoria West lads have been trying to get him to come over from Calgary for a match here, but it was some time before he would consent to do so. The result should be a very interesting game.

Kim Howell, his opponent, claims that the reason he lost the match when he fought Lauder before was simply because he had not been used to the clean break rules. He had always fought under the Marquis of Queensberry rules, and the change bothered him.

EXPLAINS POSITION ON BOXING CONTEST

Mayor Hall Gives Reasons for Prohibiting Match on Monday Night.

Mayor Hall was this morning interviewed in regard to the refusal of the police commissioners to grant a permit for the boxing contest between Merrifield and Foley on Monday next. He said:

"There is not such an association gazetted here as the Provincial Athletic Club. The commissioners have decided not to allow sporting contests except under the auspices of duly incorporated athletic associations, such as the J. B. A. or the Victoria West Association, which will be responsible for the conduct of the affair."

"In regard to the so-called Provincial Association," said the Mayor, "they did not ask permission to hold the contest next Monday. The first intimation I received of their intention of doing so was when my attention was drawn to the posters which were issued announcing the match. I at once requested the chief of police to notify them that they would not be allowed to hold it, and to state that if they had gone to any expense in the matter it was their own fault for not finding out beforehand whether or not it would be allowed."

"They had been told before that no such contest would be allowed and they should have come to the commissioners first and found out whether or not permission could be secured. They knew that they would not secure the permission and so they thought by advertising the match they could bluff it out and obtain the permission in that way."

"The chief of police," concluded the Mayor, "has instructions to stop the match if any attempt is made to hold it."

BROUGHT BACK TO JAIL

Frank Hart, who Robbed Local Women in Seattle Has Been Recaptured.

Frank Hart, a member of a gang which some time since victimized two local women and robbed them of $800, has been arrested by the police at Alma, Kansas, and returned to Seattle. The robbery happened about two years ago on the occasion of the public holiday on May 24th. Three men came to Victoria from Seattle and on the return made the acquaintance of two women who were returning to Sweden. The women were through a confidence game, robbed of the sum mentioned and on arrival at Seattle informed the police. The men were arrested, and were sentenced to seven years in Walla Walla jail. While confined in the King county jail, preparatory to being taken to Walla Walla, Hart made his escape through a ruse and has since been at large. Hart, to the Seattle police, when brought back this week, said: "I never committed any real crime in King county. Two men worked the shell game on the water front. Myself and two pals were busy keeping the crowd interested, and in blows the Swedish ladies' duet from Victoria with the $800. A lady friend was helping the shell men with the Swedish ladies but he had absolutely nothing to do with the get-away. But we got seven years and my friends are pardoned. Seems to me there ought to be a little change for me to go back to my nice quiet little room and business in Walla Walla without further controversy. We may have another financial depression before seven years are up, and my business would suffer without my personal attention."

18. Ormond street, both sides, from Fort street to Yates street;

And that the cost of maintenance of the boulevards above mentioned should be borne by the property owners interested, and that each and all of said works should be carried out in accordance with the provisions of the Local Improvement General By-Law, and amendment thereto.

And the City Engineer and City Assessor having referred to the Council in accordance with the provisions of Section 4 of the said By-Law, upon each and every of said works of local improvement, giving statement showing the amounts estimated to be chargeable in each case against the various portions of real property to be benefited by the construction of said permanent sidewalks, the grading and macadamizing, the construction of boulevards, curbs and gutters above mentioned, and the reports of the City Engineer and City Assessor aforesaid having been adopted by the Council, NOTICE is hereby given that the reports herein referred to are open for inspection at the office of the City Assessor, City Hall, Douglas street.

WELLINGTON S. DOWLER, C. M. C., City Clerk's Office, Victoria, B. C., 12th May, 1908.

Synopsis of Canadian Northwest Homestead Regulations.

Any even numbered section 36, Dominion Lands in Manitoba or the Northwest Provinces, excepting 8 and 28, not reserved, may be homesteaded by any person the sole head of a family, or male over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section, of 160 acres, more or less.

Application for homestead entry must be made in person by the applicant at the office of the local Agent or Sub-Agent. Entry by proxy may, however, be made on certain conditions by the father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of an intending homesteader.

An application for entry or inspection made personally at any Sub-Agent's office may be wired to the local Agent by the Sub-Agent, at the expense of the applicant, and if the land applied for is vacant on receipt of the telegram such application is to have priority and the land will be held until the necessary papers to complete the transaction are received by mail.

In case of "personation" the entry will be summarily cancelled and the applicant will forfeit all priority of claim.

An application for inspection must be made in person. The applicant must be eligible for homestead entry, and only one application for inspection will be received from an individual until that application has been disposed of.

A homesteader whose entry is in good standing, and not liable to cancellation, may, subject to approval of Department, relinquish it in favor of father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister, if eligible, but to no one else, on filing declaration of abandonment.

Where an entry is summarily cancelled, or voluntarily abandoned, subsequent to institution of cancellation proceedings, the applicant for inspection will be entitled to priority right of entry.

Applicants for inspection must state in particulars the homesteader is in default, and if subsequently the statement is found to be untrue, the entry will be cancelled, the applicant will lose any prior right of re-entry, should the land become vacant, and no entry will be granted it may be summarily cancelled.

DUTIES.—A settler is required to perform the conditions under one of the following plans:

- (1) At least six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each year during the term of three years.
- (2) If the father for mother, if the father is deceased of a homesteader resides upon a farm in the vicinity of the land entered for by such homesteader the requirement as to residence may be satisfied by such person residing with the father or mother.
- (3) If the settler has his permanent residence upon farming land owned by him in the vicinity of his homestead, the requirement may be satisfied by residence upon such land.

Before making application for patent the settler must give six months' notice in writing to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa, of his intention to do so.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTH-WEST MINING ACTS.

COAL.—Coal mining rights may be leased for a period of twenty-one years at an annual rental of $1 per acre. Not more than 2,500 acres shall be leased to one individual or company. The rental at the rate of five cents per ton shall be collected on the merchantable coal mined.

QUARTZ.—A person eighteen years of age, or over, having discovered mineral in place, may locate a claim 1,600 x 1,600 feet.

The fee for recording a claim is $5. At least $100 must be expended on the claim each year or paid to the mining recorder in lieu thereof. When $500 has been expended or paid, the locator may, upon having a survey made, and upon complying with other requirements, purchase the land at $1 per acre.

The patent provides for the payment of a royalty of 2 1/2 per cent. on the sales. Placer mining claims generally are 100 feet square; entry fee $5, renewable yearly.

An applicant may obtain two leases to dredge for gold of five miles each for a term of twenty years, renewable at the discretion of the Minister of the Interior. The lessee shall have a dredge in operation within one season from the date of the lease for each five miles. Rental $10 per annum for each mile of river leased. Royalty at the rate of 5 per cent. collected on the output after it exceeds $10,000.

W. W. CORY, Deputy of the Minister of the Interior. N.B.—Unauthorized publication of this advertisement will not be paid for.

The smallest things visible to the eye are the stars. Few people would think it, but the wisest say it is so. Great as many of the stars are in actual size, their distance is so immense that their angular diameter becomes insensible, and they approach to the condition of geometric points. The minute discs they appear to have are imaginary effects of radiation.

TONS OF DOG SALMON
Against Nanaimo Fishing Company Enforced.

(Special to the Times).
Vancouver, May 22.—A case involving tons of dog salmon is before the Supreme court this afternoon in a suit by Charles H. Lilley & Co., of Seattle, against the Johnston Fisheries Co., of Nanaimo.

The Seattle firm already has judgment against the Nanaimo company for $12,000, which is said to represent tons of the pickled salmon which it was claimed were not included in a big shipment to Japan, which the Seattle firm says should have been made under their contract with the Nanaimo company. The value of the shipment that was made was in the neighborhood of $100,000.

To-day Lilley & Co. are seeking an enforcement of their judgment in the usual way by obtaining the judgment of the court here.

"But we never submitted to the jurisdiction of the Washington court in the first place," declared D. M. Eberts, K. C., who is here from Victoria on behalf of the defendants. "Certainly A. R. Johnston never did, and the judgment is invalid against him."

J. A. Russell, for the plaintiffs, met this by calling Judge Allen, of Seattle, to the aid of the defendants. "Certainly A. R. Johnston and A. R. Johnston," he declared, "appeared on behalf of both Johnston & Co. and A. R. Johnston."

The reply to this was that the appearance, at least so far as Mr. Johnston is concerned, was without authority. To this end evidence is being offered this afternoon.

The Nanaimo company supplied the shipment to Lilley & Co., who sold it to a third party, the latter in turn selling it to a company in Japan.

BOY CLAIMS HE WAS SHANGHAIED ON ILSE

Costa Rican Tells Story of Ill-treatment on German Vessel.

There is at present in Seattle a Costa Rican boy, 15 years of age, who gives his name as Antonio Magri Mallorgu, and his home at Puntas Arenas, who charges that he was shanghaied by the captain and cook of the German steamship Ilse, when the latter vessel was at his home port.

The boy states that his father and Capt. Frederick Jensen, of the firm of Jensen & Ostrander, who was in command of the Ilse, had an interview relative to the lad being signed on as a cabin boy, but no arrangements were made. Subsequently he was drinking in a saloon when Jensen and the cook of the Ilse entered and while he was talking to the captain, the cook struck him from behind, rendering him unconscious. He awoke on board the Ilse, which was then at sea.

The Ilse ran short of coal and put into Magdalena bay. At San Francisco Capt. Reimer, who brought her out from Liverpool to this coast, resumed command of the steamship. The lad states that Capt. Reimer refused to pay him wages upon reaching Seattle, and he is now destitute although being cared for by the German consul at Seattle. On the way north Mallorgu claims that he was constantly ill-treated.

Capt. Jensen stated to a Seattle interviewer that the boy was not shanghaied.

"He was a lazy young duffer, and his father wanted him to be made a man of," said Capt. Jensen. "I spoke of paying him, but his father said no, that he should get no money. He went on the ship of his own free will."

As soon as a German vessel departs from the Sound for Puntas Arenas the lad will be sent back. At present he is dependent upon the German consul and the immigration officials at the Sound port for his maintenance.

CANADA'S FIRST STEEL SHIP.

"Maker of History" will be Launched Next Month at Nova Scotia Yards.

Next month there will be launched in the little Nova Scotia port of New Glasgow the first steel sailing ship ever built in Canada, the name for which has not yet been selected.

The spars are now almost completely rigged and it will be ready for the launch within two weeks' time. Great interest is being manifested in the vessel, which is being constructed by the firm of I. Matheson & Co. An eastern exchange refers to the construction of the ship as "making history," and Nova Scotia newspapers generally are tendering congratulations to the little port of New Glasgow for its enterprise in placing upon the ocean the first steel sailing ship that the Dominion has yet produced.

BLAZING STEAMER DESERTED.

Wilmington, N. C., May 22.—The pilot boat Elma Brooks, of Southport, N. C., while cruising off Prying Point, shot and discovered the steamer George Weems, from Georgetown, S. C., for Baltimore, deserted and on fire. The crew evidently had been taken off by a passing steamer. The Weems sank at 8 o'clock on Wednesday night, a total loss.

To-night the C. P. R. flyer Princess Victoria will have an exceptionally large number of passengers for Seattle who are availing themselves of the double service which will give for the next four days to view the battleship fleet. Tickets are being sold at the Government street office of the C. P. R. for to-morrow afternoon's trip. The Princess will leave at 1 p. m. to-morrow for Seattle and at 1:30 a. m. and 1 p. m. on Sunday, sustaining this schedule until Tuesday.

MAKING EFFORT TO SETTLE WAR

J. S. GOLDSMITH TO MEET BOARD OF TRADE

Seattle Arbitration Committee Heard Representation of Companies Yesterday.

The arbitration committee appointed by the Seattle Chamber of Commerce to consider means whereby the rate war between the C. P. R. and the Inland Navigation Company could be satisfactorily settled, met in Seattle yesterday afternoon and conferred with representatives of the contending concerns.

J. S. Goldsmith was appointed representative of the committee with instructions to arrange conferences with the Victoria and Seattle boards of trade at which the situation will be discussed and an attempt made to devise some scheme whereby the war can be ended. No further development in the rate war occurred today. The Princess Victoria brought over the smallest crowd since she went on the run this season, while the Chippewa, curiously enough, brought over the biggest weekday crowd since the flyer opened her. The former steamship has 117 and the latter 59.

FRENCH LINER CEYLAN PASSED UP

New Chargeurs-Reunis Steamship Inaugurates Direct Service to Orient.

Bound for Vancouver from San Francisco, the Chargeurs Reunis steamship Ceylan passed up to-day. She was intended to be the first vessel of the famous French line of "round the world" steamships to inaugurate the direct service between the Orient and Vancouver, the C. P. R. having made arrangements whereby through bills of lading will be issued in connection with these liners.

Owing to the necessity of docking in order to have new propellers fitted, the Ceylan followed the old schedule and made a call at San Francisco. The propellers were sent out from France to this port, as it was intended to have them fitted at Esquimalt, but it was later found that the local dock would not accommodate the big liner. Accordingly the C. P. R. over whose road they had been shipped, sent them on to the Bay City, where they were fitted to the French steamship. In consequence of the Esquimalt dock being too small to accommodate the latest of the Chargeurs-Reunis steamships, which will in future maintain the service between Japanese ports and Vancouver, arrangements, which were well under way, to have each vessel cleaned and painted here had to be cancelled.

Following the Ceylan is the Amiral Du Perre which will shortly inaugurate the regular forty-five-day service. The Ceylan has 300 tons of general freight for Vancouver.

Like her sister vessel, the Malte, which was in these waters recently, the Ceylan is a modern liner over 500 feet long, and has a displacement of over 15,000 tons, with a speed of sixteen knots. She has extensive accommodations for first and second class passengers.

WHAT TRADE TREATY WITH FRANCE MEANS

Considerable Traffic Will Be Diverted From New York to Canadian Ports.

Just what the ultimate amount of benefit conferred upon Canadian shipping ports on the east coast by the new treaty with France will be it is difficult to say, but men of experience in shipping circles say that it will be immense. Not only will it stimulate and sustain general trade with France, but the treaty will encourage the carrying of merchandise direct between the ports of the two countries involved in the agreement.

Referring to the treaty the Morning Chronicle of Halifax says: "At present thousands of tons for Canadian consumption or from Canada for France come and go via New York, the French line running to New York carrying it across the water. It means thousands of tons during a year and one Canadian concern alone is known to ship nearly 400 cars per year, not to speak of their imports. Under the new treaty all this traffic must pass over Canadian roads and through Canadian ports in order to reap the benefit of the privileges under the treaty."

"This will probably mean full cargoes in and outwards for the steamers running between here and France and for the all-Canadian railways."

CHARTER MARKET NOW SHOWS IMPROVEMENT

Past Week Saw More Activity in Off-shore Shipping.

"Chartering on the coast for off-shore business has been rather more active during the past week," says the San Francisco Daily Commercial News in its weekly review of freights and charters, adding:

"Two vessels were taken for prompt wheat loading, Puget Sound to United Kingdom, at 22 1/2 cts. one to shift from San Francisco; the latter vessel's fixture was at 21s and the one before that at 20s; the rate 22 1/2 cts is 5s below the union minimum, which shows a weak market, but it is not at all unlikely that some improvement will be made in the near future, as the supply of available vessels is steadily decreasing. The crop outlook in the North, Oregon and Washington is not so promising as it was a couple of weeks ago, owing to lack of rain in many sections, but even with unfavorable weather a large yield will undoubtedly be harvested. Shippers are paying 27s 6d for new crop loading in the North without hesitation. The outlook for the barley crop in California has brightened considerably. The weather has been favorable, cool and moist, with several light showers greatly benefiting the grain. In the Sacramento valley especially the situation has improved, while reports from the middle and lower San Joaquin also show a better condition."

Lumber freights show a slightly firmer tone. Puget Sound to Callao for a large sailer has been done at 40s; Willapa Harbor to Callao, small vessel, at 42s 6d; British Columbia to Iquique, at 43s 9d, and Grays Harbor to two ports Peru at 43s 9d. The demand for China has been fairly good, but nothing further is reported in the way of Australian business.

Off-shore rates are quoted approximately as follows: "Lumber from Puget Sound or British Columbia to Sydney, 26s 3d; to Melbourne or Adelaide, 27s 6d; to Pirie, 28s 6d; to Fremantle, 29s; to Perth, 30s; ADVISES THE USE
OF OIL ON STREETS

Montreal Has Its Troubles With
the Dreaded Dust Nuisance.

As pointed out the other day, we are having our dust as usual, although some perturbation cleaning and watering is going on, says the Montreal Star. Like Victoria, the eastern cities have their dust troubles. The Star continues: It is manifestly impossible to keep the streets in anything like decent condition, by the means heretofore used. The material employed for making our macadamized streets is limestone, and when that is used for a short time, the surface becomes impalpable dust which, under the best circumstances, is difficult to keep down. Now with the increasing use of automobiles, the nuisance is intolerable. The watering carts, if used frequently enough, may serve the purpose on the paved streets, but they are of very little service on the macadamized roads. These are always either muddy or dusty.

It is a common occurrence in the summer time to see such a street as Sherbrooke, for instance, with dust just like smoke constantly rising several feet in the air from the movement of carriages. With the slightest breeze, choking clouds are driven into the faces of the pedestrians and into the houses of residents. It is on these non-paved streets that the dust mainly originates. It is true that the dried filth from lanes and back yards becomes pulverized and helps to flavor it. Still, if arrangements were made to keep down the dust on the macadamized roads there would be no great difficulty in keeping the paved ways all right.

How is this to be done? Water has been tried and found wanting. In other countries they recognize the necessity of using something else and complete success has been attained. In European countries many parts of the United States only substances are utilized, and dust is one of the miseries of civilization eliminated by science. It is not necessary that anybody's particular patent be used, if it does not cost too expensive. Many different formulas are used, according to the material that can be most conveniently obtained. In general the process may be described as the use of common sense and coal oil. It is found not only to make roads dustless, but it also makes them last much longer, and greatly reduces the cost of repair. It makes the cleaning and watering of the paved streets much simpler, because the surface of the unpaved is not blown on them in the form of dust, or carried on them in the form of mud.

Here is the largest and wealthiest city in Canada, allowing thousands of dollars' worth of property to be destroyed, the health of its citizens impaired and their very lives imperiled, by old-fashioned and hopelessly inadequate methods of dealing with the problem. But we refuse to profit by the experience of others.

Ambassador Bryce is Guest of Canadian Club in New York.

Standing beneath the entwined Canadian and United States flags, with a full length portrait of President Roosevelt on his right and one of King Edward VII. on his left, His Excellency the Right Honorable James Bryce, British ambassador at Washington, paid a loyal tribute to Canadians and declared his belief that the Dominion would always remain loyal to the Mother Country, despite the prediction of Hon. Justice J. W. Longley, of Halifax, N. S., that at some time in the future Canada would be an independent factor in the world of nations.

Five hundred Canadians and sons of that country who have made the United States the home of their adoption assembled at the Hotel Astor, New York, for their annual dinner, a few nights ago. Until long past midnight they listened with attentiveness, interwoven with great bursts of applause, to the many speeches lauding both Canada and the United States, and proclaiming an everlasting friendship and community of interest between the two countries.

Ambassador Bryce was the guest of honor, and he was introduced in the course of a laudatory address by Rev. Dr. Francis L. Patten, president of the Princeton Theological Seminary. Mr. Bryce had no set toast, and as he arose to address the gathering, he was received with a tremendous burst of applause. He commenced by paying a tribute to Canadians as a people, and referred especially to their enthusiastic patriotism.

"Great Britain was never prouder of Canada than she is to-day," said Mr. Bryce. "Great Britain believes in Canada and always wants her to remain part of the British Empire. But it is not of the relations between Canada and Great Britain that I would speak. Rather let me say a word about the relations between Canada and the United States. Each country has power to render great service to the other. Each country has a great deal to learn from the other. Each country has some better things than the other. It is not for me to pick out the best or the worst things in each country. You can understand the reason why I cannot do so for public consumption.

"Each country has given to the other great and good men. J. J. Hill, the great American railroad magnate, is a Canadian, as is Bishop Brent, of the Philippine Islands, who was recently chosen for the Episcopate at Washington. The United States has given to Canada equally good men. Each is therefore indebted to the other.

"The United States and Canada have certain aims in common. More notable among these is the protection of natural resources. There is now going on in Washington a conference of vast importance to this end, which was instigated by President Roosevelt, who has the natural resources of the country greatly at heart. There are so many baseball games to report, and with modern filing the papers in addition thereto, there has been little room to report diplomatic doings, but there have been several diplomatic happenings of late that redound to the benefit of both the United States and Canada. I refer to the treaties affecting the fisheries of the great lakes; the delimitation of the boundaries between the United States and Canada, the most important of all; the arbitration treaty between the United States and Great Britain, which makes the settlement of controversies that cannot be overcome by negotiations possible in a peaceful manner, rather than have long-continued bickering with a possible resort to arms.

Mr. Bryce then paid a glowing tribute to Secretary of State Elihu Root. "There has never been a statesman in this country who has done more or who is better fitted to seal the friendship existing between the United States and Canada than is Mr. Root," said Mr. Bryce. "I do not know of any statesman who has brought a clearer vision to the subject, or who has handled it with greater wisdom than he has."

Concluding his address, Mr. Bryce called attention to the great good done by such clubs as the one he was addressing. "Friendship of nations is based on friendship of individuals, he said, and the fostering of these friendships means the continued friendships of the nations. This friendship is bound to continue, even though there is no unity in fact between the two nations, for Canada will, I believe, always be an integral part of the British Empire."

The report which the Times received from Associated Press sources, in connection with the above banquet, made no mention of Ambassador Bryce, who was the guest of honor.

The elections in connection with the Victoria Typographical Union have been completed with the receipt of the vote in Nanaimo, which is affiliated with the local union. The following is the result: President, H. M. Diggon; secretary, George M. Watt; sick and relief committee, J. Chowie, Abe Ellis, H. M. Diggon; trades and labor delegates, R. White and O. L. Hitchcock; sergeant-at-arms, R. Holloway. The following officers were elected by acclamation: Vice-president, J. B. Brady; executive, A. C. Chislett, F. Grant, F. C. Pink; treasurer, Thos. Booz; audit committee, J. Pottinger, R. Butler, W. L. Cullin.

—Rev. Dr. Chown, general secretary of temperance and moral reform, in the Methodist church, is now in the province. He is investigating the opium question as it affects British Columbia, and will occupy the pulpit of the Metropolitan Methodist church on Sunday.

SAY MINE OFFICIALS
BROKE CONTRACT
Strike at Michel Leads to Action by Crow's Nest Pass Company.

Fernie, B. C., May 20.—Charges preferred by the Crow's Nest Pass Coal Company against James Douglas, president; Charles Gaefner, secretary; William Whitehouse and other members of Michel Local, U. M. W. of A., for breaking contract, were tried here to-day before Government Agent J. H. McMullen. Three separate cases will be taken up individually. J. H. Harvey, Cranbrook, is counsel for the prosecution, and W. A. Macdonald, K. C., of Nelson, for the defence.

James Derbyshire, superintendent of the Michel mines, was the first witness for the prosecution. He knew Douglas as president. The latter called on Mr. Derbyshire between 8 and 9 o'clock on Friday evening, coming from a miners' meeting with Gaefner, and asked if Harry Marchant, the man who has caused the strike, was fired. He answered "yes." They went back and returned fifteen minutes later and said the men wanted Marchant put back, else the mines would be idle until he was. Mr. Derbyshire told them he would do his own work and did not want others interfering. In consequence, the mines were idle on Monday. Cross-examined he said he did not dismiss Marchant because of personal matters, but because he was not a practical miner. He had known Marchant seven years ago and did not consider him fit to work on dangerous seams. Cross-examined, he said Marchant was engaged by the pit boss on May 1st, and had a lamp to start with. On Monday, May 4th, he was told by the pit boss that he was not wanted. His place had been taken on that day. John Thomas, pit boss, was with Derbyshire when Douglas and others called. Douglas called Derbyshire outside. He did not hear their conversation. Cross-examined, he did not know why the men did not go to work. John Bastian, pit boss, was with the others when Douglas called. A circular was put in sent out by the Michel mine for dismissal of the strike. He was asked if he had seen it. He had seen it distributed on station by the miners. He engaged Marchant on May 1st, and told him he could start on Monday. After he had his lamp he told him he was not wanted. Cross-examined, as to why he gave a reason for dismissal, he said the place had been taken by him. He admitted that was a lie. He said it was the only reason for dismissal from the superintendent. After he had seen him he told Marchant that the superintendent would not let him work.

James D. Hurd, general manager, was the last witness called. He said he had information from officers of the union and officials at Michel that there was a strike there. He had no knowledge of the affair until he received this information. He was also asked as to the circular, and said he had a copy sent him in a letter from Douglas and others. He said the mines were open and wanted the men to go back to work. The district local officials held a meeting in his office this afternoon to come to some arrangement but nothing was done. He stated that the men acted contrary to the agreement entered into with the U. M. W. A. district 18, whereby all differences are to be submitted to district offices, the men to continue working.

Court adjourned at 10 p. m.

The saloons are closed in Michel, owing to fighting.

Slav International Organizer G. Suzin, has been sent by the district U. M. W. A. to induce the Slavs to return to work. A circular has also been issued by President Sherman and J. A. Macdonald, secretary-treasurer of District 18, U. M. W. A., advising the men to return to work.

The case has created interest and the court was crowded.

MARPOLE LEAVES FOR ENGLAND
Vancouver, May 21.—R. Marpole, general executive assistant for western lines of the C. P. R., with Mrs. Marpole and family, left at 2:15 yesterday afternoon for a three-months' tour through Europe. They will sail from Quebec on the Empress of Ireland on the 29th inst. While in England, Mr. Marpole, by request of several prominent societies, will deliver a number of addresses relating to Western Canadian affairs.

FERNIE ASSIZES.
Fernie, May 21.—There will be an exceptionally heavy docket at the sitting of the assize court which takes place here on May 26th, and it is likely the session will be a protracted one. The number of criminal cases is larger than usual, and some are of a very serious nature, and there is a possibility that a case of murder will be on the docket. Mr. Justice Irving will preside.

EXCLUSION CANDIDATE.
Anti-Oriental League May Make New Departure in Politics.

Vancouver, May 21.—The parliamentary committee of the Asiatic Exclusion League will strongly recommend that a candidate representing its interests be placed in the field in Vancouver at the next federal election. The platform will declare unequivocally for total exclusion of all classes of Orientals as the only solution of the labor problem in British Columbia, and the one method whereby the ascendancy of the white race can be maintained.

HOSPITAL EXTENSIONS.
New Westminster, May 21.—It was decided at the meeting of the hospital board yesterday that the extensions to the hospital, including the maternity cottage and nurses' home, should be opened on July 1st if possible. The monthly report of the superintendent showed that one hundred and four patients had been treated during April and that the fees collected amounted to $282.10. The number of patients in the hospital at the present time is forty-one.

DESTITUTION AMONG
VANCOUVER HINDUS
Orientals Wait on Relief Officer
McMahon—Say Work is Refused to Race.

Vancouver, May 21.—A deputation of Hindus waited on Relief Officer McMahon yesterday morning asking that the city aid them to obtain work or provide them with food. A signed communication was presented stating that there were 1,000 Hindus out of work in and about the city and their situation was daily becoming more distressing. These men are British subjects saw Italians, Japanese and Chinese being employed on every hand, but work was refused their race almost everywhere. When a Hindu did get work he divided his rations with his fellow; but of late there was hardly anything coming in. The result was that it was now up to the city to provide for the men in some way.

Mr. McMahon explained the difficulties of the situation and asked the Hindus to obtain a complete list of all their race, who were in a destitute condition and had been in the country less than two years. The visitors borrowed a couple of sheets of paper, saying the list would be very lengthy and departed.

VANCOUVER LADIES
HAVE SMOKING HABIT
Prevalence of Fair Ones Using Cigarettes Discussed by W.
C. T. U. Members.

Vancouver, May 22.—The Vancouver district Women's Christian Temperance Union met on Monday at the home of Mrs. T. F. Watson, Howe street, the president, Mrs. S. H. Brown, presiding.

Mrs. Reekie reported that for the local option fund $25.50 had been collected and $15 donated by the West End Union. Central Union collected $25 and Epworth $12.50. Mrs. Beckett reported that about one hundred and fifty anti-cigarette resolutions, signed by the churches and societies of the city, had been sent to Ottawa. Mrs. Macken spoke of the growing prevalence of cigarette smoking among not only the boys but the girls of the city, and urged those present to put forth every effort to banish the evil. Samples of inscribed anti-cigarette blotters were shown, and it was decided two thousand of them be sent for to be placed in the city schools.

A letter was read from H. H. Stevens, asking the union to appoint six delegates to a meeting of the Moral and Social Reform Council, which will be held at 10 o'clock on May 25th in the Y. M. C. A. building. The delegates appointed were Mesdames S. H. Brown, McLean, Beckett, McFee, Fitch and Payne.

Mrs. S. J. Thompson, of Victoria, who was present, invited the union to send a large contingent to the convention in Victoria, as the ladies of that city were arranging for a grand rally.

Miss Coates, of Toronto, who is spending some time here, was introduced, and spoke of her firm belief in the coming of equal suffrage, and that when the women of the homes were allowed to vote prohibition would soon be brought about.

Mrs. (Dr.) Gillespie, of Cumberland, made a plea for extended work among the young people. Mrs. Empey was appointed to represent the district union at the convention.

The June meeting of the union, which will take place on the fourth Monday, will, on invitation of Mrs. Upham, be held at her home, 2082 Dundas street.

HINDU THUGS.
Vancouver, May 21.—Two Hindus named Noble Singh and Numan Singh were arrested last night and charged with stealing $60 from a countryman named Able Singh. It appears that Able Singh is boss of the boarding house at the Rat Portage mills, and he had collected the rent from the men. Noble Singh and Numan Singh knew he had the money and suddenly made a savage assault upon him, knocking him down and then going through his clothes. They secured the money, but were promptly arrested upon Able Singh's complaint.

MULLEN REMANDED.
Fernie, May 21.—Pat Mullen was remanded to the assizes next week on the charge of murdering Michael.

—St. John's choir will meet at the church at 7:30 this evening for rehearsal.

COMPANY MAY START
AT PRINCE RUPERT
Power and Light Company is Finally Given Permission to Proceed.

After a long delay the provincial government has approved of the plans of the Prince Rupert Power and Light Company, Limited, and in the current issue of the British Columbia Gazette appears a notice authorizing the company to undertake the following work:

The transmission and distribution of electric power generated at its plants to various points on the Tsimspeen peninsula, and Kaiten and Digby islands.

For the above purpose, to divert, in accordance with its water record No. 22, 5,000 miner's inches of water from Shoowahltians lake, which will be discharged into the sea at the mouth of Shoowahltians river, about 600 feet westerly from the point of diversion.

Also to divert, in accordance with its water record No. 22, 5,000 miner's inches of water from Shoowahltians lake, which will be discharged into the sea at the mouth of Shoowahltians river, about 600 feet westerly from the point of diversion.

The construction at or near the outlet of Woodworth lake, of a dam, by means of which the present level of the lake will be raised approximately eighteen feet; from thence a ditch and pipeline will convey water to a power plant on the level land at the easterly end of Shoowahltians lake.

The construction, at or near the outlet of Shoowahltians lake, of a pipeline for the purpose of conveying water to a power plant, situated at the mouth of Shoowahltians river; the water power thus obtained from the said lakes to be converted to electric power by means of water-wheels or turbines, or both.

The plans of the Vancouver Power Company of its plans for the extension of the New Westminster to Chilliwack to develop power at certain places are also approved.

VANCOUVER BICYCLISTS.
Vancouver, May 21.—At a meeting of local bicycle enthusiasts held last evening it was decided to call a meeting in the near future of local wheelmen and racing men, when a committee will be selected with a view to forming a bicycle club to be run on a purely amateur basis. A monster meeting of wheelmen is looked for and all are cordially invited to attend.

It was suggested that the new club put on a bicycle meet to be held in the near future, possibly on Dominion Day (July 1st). Already a number of men in training are to be seen nightly at Brockton Point. The track is now in good shape. It is expected that all those who attend this meeting will fall in with the idea of forming a new club, also a meet, and provision will be made for the offering of suitable prizes for the several events.

BAD SEALING SEASON
OFF NEWFOUNDLANDCatch Rapidly Diminishing During Last Few Years—
New Method.The sealing voyage of 1908 will be a memorable one, and will probably prove a parting of the ways, the losses
to our present sealing fleet, the damage done to other vessels, and the success achieved by the Adventure, all pointing to new methods of conducting the fishery, writes the St. John's correspondent of the Montreal Star.The history of sealing in Newfoundland dates back for very many years.
During the last eighty years or so statistics have been preserved, whilst during the past two score years these statistics may be regarded as accurate.
Half a century ago there were not less than 400 schooners engaged in the business. Each of the schooners carried a large crew, whilst the work of preparation was shared amongst the schooner builders, sail-makers, dealers, carpenters, blacksmiths, coopers and laborers, in almost every hamlet in the island. In those days the seal fishery was a blessing in every community.In 1863 the first steamer was introduced and, although not successful at the beginning, yet its introduction sounded the first knell in the dirge of the "sailing" seal fishery. Three years later five steamers were scouring the ice-fields, whilst the number of schooners had decreased to 177. From that time on the sailing vessels became scarcer and scarcer, and to-day it is safe to say that there are not half-a-dozen sailing vessels engaged in the work during any season. The steamers, on the other hand, have increased, and
in 1882 there were 25 at the ice-fields.
Last year there were 23 and this year 21, and there is every probability of the number being considerably reduced in coming years, owing to the substitution of a new and improved class of steamer.Last year the Leopard, commanded by Captain Robert Bartlett, of Arctic fame, was lost on March 7th during a heavy snowstorm off the southeast coast of the island, whilst the Greenland, Captain Bragg, was abandoned 125 miles E. S. E. of Bonaville. There were few who were sorry to see the end of the Greenland, because it was from her were lost 48 sealers in the great snowstorm ten years ago.

Adventure a Success.

The Adventure is a new type of vessel, 829 tons net. She was introduced as an experiment, and the experiment has proven very successful. Last year she brought in about 25,000 seals, and this year 27,000, being the first arrival.
It is now probable that several others
of the Adventure class will be introduced and that the eighteen steamers still existing will, in consequence, be decreased in number. Vessels of the Adventure type can easily carry about 50,000 seals, so that with a new class of vessels a further contraction of the advantages to the fishermen must follow, fewer men being employed. Already the prospectus of two new Adventure companies have been issued,
and the stock will be readily subscribed in the local market.The manufacture of the oil is practically in the hands of three firms, the old Liverpool houses of Job Brothers &
Co., and Bowring Brothers & Company,
Ltd., and the Scotch house of Murray & Crawford. As new developments in the direction of sealing steamers will mean the formation of joint stock companies it may be that a wider interest will be created, the dollars of the small investor sharing in the profits of the voyage.Another serious feature is that, with vessels of the Adventure class it is not unlikely that the history of the whale fishery will be repeated, and that the extermination of the mammal will result. The law of retribution applies in things material, as well as moral and physical, and just as the oak-sheathed fleet of the '70's and '80's snatched from the sailing vessels their laurels, so a fleet of Adventures may thrust them into obscurity and uselessness.The catch for 1906 was valued at $607,000, and for 1907 at $455,000. It is thought that the total catch this year will be considerably under $300,000, or very much below the average in weight and value.The Gulf Fishery.
Only two vessels prosecuted the Gulffishery this year, the other nineteen being from the front to use the name generally given to the ice-fields on the northeast coast, Captain Bartlett, of the Viking, is the father of Captain
"Bob" Bartlett, the commander of the Peary Arctic exploration ship Roosevelt. Last year Captain "Bob" lost the Leopard, and this year went with his father. It is generally noticeable that when the Gulf fleet is successful the front fishery is below the average, whilst when the fishery at the front is large the Gulf fishery is a blank.This year it has been the turn of the Gulf fishery, but unfortunately, only two steamers were there.
There is a popular belief that the sealing voyage is the key to the year's fishery. It is, of course, possible that there may be some connection between the migrations of the seal and the cod,
but that sort of thing may be left for scientists and "nature fakirs" to argue over. The origin of the superstition was, no doubt, based upon facts. In the old days it was said that the seal fishery provided the capital for the cod fishery, that the cod fishery provided
the bread and butter for the fishermen, and the herring fishery, now almost a thing of the past, provided the preserves for their children. Now a bad seal fishery does not affect the men directly to any great extent, as it is seldom that they make more than from $50 to $30 at the ice. But it does materially affect the owners and sup-

COURT AT DUNCANInteresting Cases Under Mechanic Lien Act Brought Up.On Wednesday last Judge Harrison had before him four actions under the Mechanic's Lien Act, arising out of the erection of Arthur Parry's residence at Cowichan Bay by a contractor, C. G. Harris, who left this city in March last, leaving several contracts for houses at Cowichan
Bay incomplete. In the Kokalah Lumber Company vs. Harris and Parry and two other actions were for material.
S. Perry Mills, K. C., for Mr. Parry, moved to quash the three liens and for an order for consolidation of all liens.
J. A. Alkman appeared for the lien holders. After argument, the learned judge reserved his decision on the law points raised by Mr. Mills, and proceeded to take evidence, when Mr. Mills raised a further point of law, and thereupon all the cases stood over to enable the several plaintiffs to make application for service on Harris, the contractor, who is out of the jurisdiction, costs to be defendant
Parry's costs in any event.DEFEAT OF SHIP SUBSIDY BILL.United States Again Receives Set Back
